Local Briefs

Pancake breakfast

The Romulus Kiwanis Club will host its Pancake Breakfast & Crafts Sales beginning at 7 a.m. until 7 p.m., on Saturday at the Progressive Hall, 11580 Ozga Rd.

Tickets are $3 for adults and $2 for children. The South Little League will hold a cake bake sale simultaneously.

Walk for hunger

Let's walk for world hunger.

On May 15, a walkathon for World Hunger will be sponsored by CROP. The walkathon will be held in Belleville and Romulus. Belleville participants will start at St. Anthony's Catholic Church and walk down Huron River drive to Romulus Community Methodist Church and walk back to St. Anthony's.

Romulus participants will reverse the walk, meeting at Romulus Community Methodist Church and walking to St. Anthony's Catholic church.

The walkathon will be open to individuals and groups. Those interested should contact Kathy Rairick, 699-7099. A portion of the money raised by the Walkathon will remain in Michigan to feed our own hungry people.

Sumpter Day plans

Baked goods, donations, and — above all — volunteers are needed to help make the 1983 Sumpter Day a success. A Sumpter Day Committee is now in full force, planning festivities for the July 9 celebration, including booths, parades, and a "Miss Princess" contest. On May 7, the group is sponsoring a bake sale in downtown Belleville.

The Committee's next meeting is Thursday, April 21 at 7 p.m. in Sumpter's Senior Center. Future committee meetings will be held every other Thursday at the Center. For more information, call Adonna Demski at 697-7020.

Revenue sharing

The major portion of Sumpter Township's 1983 federal revenue sharing funds went to police wages and rubbish pick-up.

The Township's Board of Trustees designated the $115,000 at an open meeting on April 12. The funding breakdown is: $51,000 for police wages, $49,000 for rubbish pick-up, $10,000 for fire department wages, and $500 for recreation (to support Township softball teams).

The Trustees approved the funding with little discussion from Sumpter Township citizens attending the meeting.

Distributed in 22 states, the federal funds are intended to implement a community's general funds. Sumpter Township's funding level has remained "fairly consistent" over the past few years, according to Township Supervisor Jim Reeves.

Voters reject millage, bond

10 percent cast ballots in special election

With approximately 10 percent of the voters turning out last Monday, voters in the Romulus Community School District decisively rejected a 3-mill school tax hike and an $800,000 bond issue to rid the high school of its asbestos problem.

The voters turned their backs on the Board of Education's request for additional school operating millage 1,443 saying "no" to the 3-mill tax hike, while 470 voters approved the levy.

The same voters also rejected the bond issue 1,022 to 703. The bond monies were to be utilized to remove asbestos insulation from Romulus High School.

Although school officials and Dr. William Bedell, Superintendent of School, said they were disappointed, they also noted that "they sort of expected the outcome of the election."

"The outcome of the election was not a complete surprise," Dr. Bedell reiterated, "because we had very low turnout at our presentations. We are sure that if we can explain in detail to every parent the implications of these two issues, they would support these proposals."

"Unfortunately, with the economic times such as they are, education can not be the priority item for people that it once was," Dr. Bedell concluded.

According to election officials, only 10 percent of the registered voters showed up to cast their ballots.

"You would think that on such an important issue as asbestos, which means that the 'status quo' could be harmful to these kids, more people would vote," said an election official. "It's unfortunate that the other 90 percent of the voters apparently don't care one way or other what happens to their schools."

Sales pitch

Next week the nation will be commemorating "Arbor Day" and officials are asking you to "spruce up" your yards. If you want to purchase a tree and help firefighters, head for Belleville where fire-

Police seek aid to solve ex-Romulus resident's murder

Taylor police are asking local and area residents for help in solving the murder of a 25-year-old man who was gunned down apparently chasing a thief or thieves who had broken into his home.

The victim, James Donald Sweet, who was raised in Romulus but resided in Taylor with his wife and three children, was killed about 10 p.m. Sat., April 9 in front of his home at 12893 Murray.

"We're asking anyone with any information about this killing to telephone the Taylor Police Department," urged Det. Sgt. Jerry Myers who, with Det. Richard Hodges, has been assigned to the case. "We hope someone in this area may have information about this case."

According to Myers, Sweet and his wife and three small children were returning home after visiting some friends. Sweet apparently heard noises as he entered the rear door of the dwelling and saw someone race out the front door.

He pursued the suspects and his wife said she heard a single gun shot. When Mrs. Sweet went to the front yard she found her husband on the ground with a gunshot wound to the chest.

Sweet was pronounced dead on arrival at Heritage Hospital.

"Although some of the household items such as the TV had been removed from their original spots," Myers said, "nothing apparently had been taken. We also interviewed some witnesses who said they saw a man running north on Murray alongside a slow moving vehicle. The suspect then apparently hopped into the car."

Some of Sweet's personal belongings, police added, were found near his body, leading police to believe that the victim either caught up to the murderer or the gunman had dropped the items.

Police urge persons with information to contact them at either 287-6000 or by calling the local police station. There is a cash reward offered for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons involved in the slaying.

Huron to settle Blakely lawsuit

A millage rate increase on the July and December tax rolls, and $35,000 held in escrow from another lawsuit, will be the source to pay an $107,525.76 judgment against Huron Township.

The judgment is the Township's share among several communities who lost their appeal against a suit by Angelo Moreno and Associates for payment for a study done to clear and rebuild the Blakely and Brownstown Creek.

The Township Board voted 5-1 to approve the method of payment at a meeting last Wednesday in New Boston.

Friday, April 15 was the deadline to get the millage increase on the July tax rolls.

The urgency to act on payment was underlined by Mary Lou Carey, Township Clerk, who noted that interest on payment was being tabulated at about $14 per day since April 1, or about $440 a month.

As to the method of payment, Trustee Gary Bates demurred, stating that the $35,000 held in escrow for possible payment to the Drain Commission (a lawsuit which Huron Township won and therefore does not have to pay) should be spent to clean drains.

Supervisor A.J. Haener disagreed, observing that the money came from all of Huron Township tax payers and should be applied to pay the $107,525.76 judgment which is also against all of the taxpayers.

Haener said that if the money were spent to clean a drain, only a small portion of the taxpayers would benefit.

Haener added that some $30-$35,000 was spent on Block Grant Funds already to clear drains within the past year.

In other business, the $20,360 position of Animal Control Officer in Huron Township was eliminated by a vote of 5-1.

The motion was introduced by Supervisor Haener.

A. J. HAENER

Haener said that the elimination of the post was due to the reduced workload of the job.

In effect the position has been turned from a full-time to a part-time position. The work will be handled by an employee of the DPW. Treasurer Christine Gamber voted against the motion.

The elimination of the post is effective within 10 days of notification to the employee.

In other matters, the Board voted unanimously to approve a $10,030 purchase of 12 insulated doors for its fire houses. The reason given for the purchase advocated by Deputy Supervisor John China is the loss of heat incurred from the current doors. The new doors are being purchased from a Monroe firm.

Supervisor Haener was also given authorization by a unanimous vote to purchase two underground storage tanks at a cost of about $6800.

Wrong-way auto crash kills 2 men

Law enforcement officials are awaiting the autopsy report of two Belleville men to learn whether they had been drinking before their fatal auto crash early Monday morning.

Michigan State Police identified the victims as Mark Sandy, 20 and Richard Kubiak, who, police said, were traveling the wrong way on the I-75 highway. They were heading southbound in Southgate when their car crashed into a semi-trailer head-on.

Jenje Vanderkooi, 58, of Cambridge, Ont., the driver of the semi-trailer, told state troopers the victim's car suddenly appeared and crashed into his vehicle. He said he had no opportunity to veer out of the driver's way.

From Romulus to Huron River

11-mile ditch is eyed as option in 2 studies on area flooding

A dish of rain. A basement of water. A flood of options.

An ark to carry away the people of Huron Township from a hypothetical flood is not among the options.

But an open ditch, running like a ribbon from Romulus to the Huron River, is.

There are others. To explain the options, the terrain must be explained, or there is no understanding.

There is a shape of land above Huron Township which is about 12 miles long and 4½ miles wide. It is oblong with a mild elevation of earth all around it — like a dish.

It has two parallel main streams moving left to right, west to east, toward the Detroit River.

One stream is located at the north of the dish, called the North Branch of the Ecorse Creek.

The other is located at the south of the dish and is called the Sexton-Kilfoil Drain (previously called the South Branch of the Ecorse Creek).

These two streams run like a railroad track across the dish, from Romulus to the Detroit River.

If a rain drop falls at the top of the dish, it will flow into the North Branch of the Ecorse Creek, if it falls near the bottom of the dish, it will flow into the Sexton-Kilfoil Drain.

This entire terrain is called the Ecorse Drainage Basin, about 44 square miles of land which some 14 communities live in or nearby.

It has flooding problems — in some areas, of a severe nature. One community very hard hit has been Taylor.

A study of water pollution caused by flooding (sewers overflowing, etc.) and how to control it was completed in October, 1980 by Wade, Trim and Associates, an engineering consulting firm in Taylor.

That study was brought to the attention of U.S. Sen. Carl Levin and Wayne County Drain Commissioner Charles Youngblood. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers was asked for an evaluation, and in turn launched its own study.

The Corps' recent study of the Ecorse Basin took 17 months to complete. The study's options would not be a direct drainage benefit to Huron Township. One option, however, would physically cut through the township.

And now the Corps is going to the communities to explain the problems and the options...and the terrain.

Beneath the Ecorse Basin is a greater body of land shaped like a second dish.

It is bounded roughly on the left by Romulus and New Boston and extends to the east, and southeast to the Detroit River.

The Huron River snakes along near the bottom of this area, through Huron Township, southeasterly to the river.

At the left of this land, there are

That's no hotel room

The "95 percent completed jail cell" in the Belleville Police Department gets an inspection from Belleville Police Chief Willard Dockter (in the door) and Sgt. Robert Dawson who admired "but wouldn't want to live" in the $35,000 facility. The jail cell will be ready for occupancy by the middle of May, the contractor said.

Jail over-crowding continues to pose serious county problem

A long-range correctional program to ease jail over-crowding was introduced to the Wayne County Commission by its sponsor, Commissioner Mary E. Dumas, as prospects loom that both DeHoCo and the jail annex in Westland will close within the next year.

"Even with the opening of the new county jail this fall," Ms. Dumas explained, "the county will face the need to house some 650 prisoners now at DeHoCo and another 250 at the 'M' Building Jail Annex."

According to authorities, "M" Building will have its license revoked upon the opening of the new jail facility in downtown Detroit and it is expected the county will lose a suit, currently in Appellate Court and initiated by Detroit, to force the county to take over the responsibility of DeHoCo, a minimum security facility near Northville.

If the suit goes against the county, the county will either have to refurbish DeHoCo at a cost ranging from $4 million to $40 million or close it down and house the prisoners in the two downtown jails. Capacity of the new facility is estimated from 570 to 700, maximum. The old jail capacity is 743.

"To make matters worse," Ms. Dumas said, "the State Corrections Commission is planning to force counties to hold prisoners with sentences up to two years instead of the current 1-year limitation. This means an even larger prisoner population."

Commissioner Dumas' program calling for alternates to that of simply incarcerating low-risk offenders has already received the blessing of both County Executive William Lucas and newly appointed Sheriff Robert A. Ficano.

"This long-range correctional program that I have introduced will need the cooperation of all parties in the criminal justice system if it is to work," the Commissioner pointed out. It must be innovative and it must be effective and it will involve everything from secure detention to probation to community service.

"The Wayne County Juvenile Court is already allowing youngsters to work out their sentences through community service programs or paying restitution to the victims. The City of Livonia and Plymouth are also providing similar programs," Dumas explained.

Commissioner Dumas said Hennepin County, Minnesota, has a total community corrections program that has established an unusually excellent record. Hennepin County, in addition to utilizing work and restitutive programs, also allows low-risk offenders to continue their normal everyday activities with the proviso that they report each day to a designated court officer. This program has been considered 85% successful.

"It is important," Dumas said, "that we have input from the Chief Executive Officer, Sheriff, Prosecutor, Circuit and Recorder's Court Judges, District Court representatives, Business and Labor, the County Commissioners and the Chairman of the county's Public Safety and Judiciary Committee."

"A comprehensive corrections plan," she added, "must be built around long-range goals and include pre-trial and post trial sentencing alternatives, conditional release for low-risk prisoners, alternative corrections facilities and revised bond procedures."

According to Ms. Dumas, a bill has been introduced to the State Legislature by Jeff Padden and Basil Brown to allow Michigan Sheriffs to release low-risk prisoners in the same manner as the governor has authorized prisoner releases from State facilities.

Builders are invited to bid on proposed Romulus Post Office

Another step toward the realization of a Romulus Post Office is being taken this week as local and area builders are invited to submit bids on the proposed structure.

Romulus will have a new post office by the spring of 1984 to replace the present inadequate leased facility if U.S. Postal Service plans for the new facility continue on schedule.

Bid documents became available April 15 for construction of a 2,320 square foot building that will be leased by the Postal Service for ten years with four five-year renewal options.

Bids will close May 14.

A 38,000 square foot site, ideally 190' by 200', is required with the preferred location bounded by Wick, North Line and Wayne Roads and Huron River Drive.

Interested bidders are asked to contact Robert J. Grimmer, realty management and acquisition analyst, Real Estate Field Office, Suite 1214, 17117 West Nine Mile Road, Southfield, MI 48075.

SEMTA eyes Huron-Sumpter line

A new labor contract with Sheriff's Local 502, hiring of two consulting firms and the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) people-mover plan were approved by Wayne County Commissioners during their full session Thursday.

County Executive William Lucas had asked for swift action approving his recently negotiated pact with Local 502 to allow him to implement a shift of twelve deputies to Recorder's Court that will save the county substantial money by replacing Detroit Police Officers now assigned that duty. "In addition," Lucas reported to the Commissioners, "approving the contract will hurry along development of patrols in Hines and Elizabeth Parks scheduled to begin May 1st."

In a show of cooperation, commissioners also gave quick approval for Lucas to hire two consulting firms, Coopers and Lybrand and Lazard Freres & Co., at an estimated cost of $120,000 to assist the county in the development and execution of a comprehensive financial program. Both firms have a history of helping other financially strapped governmental agencies — including New York and Cleveland. Wayne County's budget deficit has been estimated from $23 million to $120 million.

Wayne County was the last of three neighboring counties to approve the $2 billion transportation plan that includes a light rail along Woodward Avenue, an automated people-mover that would loop through downtown Detroit, light rail along Gratiot, and significantly expanded bus and commuter train service. The existing SEMTA program also includes commuter service to Mt. Clemens and Ann Arbor.

Recent passage of the State Comprehensive Transportation package earmarking 1¢ of the 5¢ increased federal gasoline tax specifically for public transportation capital, has made the local project possible.

SEMTA officials modified the original proposal when several districts of Wayne County protested the lack of service now provided. SEMTA has agreed to rectify a gap in the Huron-Sumpter service, provide a link with the Michigan Avenue commuter rail line to and from Metropolitan Airport, local and express service on Telegraph Road, and cooperate with Wayne County in developing a minimum of six station sites along the proposed Michigan Ave. commuter line.

Hiring?

Treasurer's staffing still unsolved

There is, apparently, some misunderstanding in Canton Township regarding the staffing of the treasurer's office.

At the regular board meeting last week, a proposal for a full-time appointed deputy treasurer to serve at the sole discretion of the treasurer was soundly rejected by members of the board of trustees.

During the discussion of the proposed $18, to $26,000 position, Trustee Robert Padgett repeatedly reminded Treasurer Maria Sterlini that while she could appoint any person she so chose to the position of deputy, the board had the right of approving any salary allocation for such an employee.

"I refuse to fund any political appointment," he told her. "I will approve whatever staffing you need to serve the needs of the community in your department. If you choose to appoint someone who is already a township employee and governed by the merit commission guidelines or the union contracts, fine, but I will not approve a political appointment," he stated repeatedly.

Sterlini's proposal for this position funding was unanimously defeated by a vote of the board members, as she refused to consider the appointment of anyone who would serve within the guidelines of the personnel policies, merit commission or bargaining units presently in the township.

Views On Dental Health

By PHILIP MEIZELS, D.D.S.

DON'T IGNORE "PINK" TOOTHBRUSH

If your toothbrush turns pink after brushing, you have a dental problem — one that should not go unattended. You are experiencing bleeding gums, a likely indicator of gingivitis (or inflamed gums).

Gingivitis is the first stage of periodontal disease which accounts for the greatest tooth loss in adults. But if you catch it early, you can reverse it with the help of your dentist and a proper home brushing and flossing regimen.

There are other symptoms of gingivitis, such as soft or swollen gums. Rather than go into all the details, take this advice. Go straight to your dentist and let him examine your gums and evaluate your

11-mile ditch eyed as option in 2 studies

four smaller water arteries shaped something like military stripes on a sleeve.
The top stripe is the Frank and Poet which starts in Romulus and flows to the east, then drops steeply south and then southeasterly to the Detroit River.
The next three stripes are in Huron Township. From the top, they are the Blakely, the Brownstown and Silver Creek. They flow much like the Frank and Poet.

This terrain and the Ecorse Basin above it includes some 141 square miles, and about 21 communities.
Both the consulting firm and the Corps focused on the Ecorse Drainage Basin.
They both came up with one similar solution: widen both branches of the Ecorse creek and build ponds. These ponds would be located near the creeks and would collect floodwaters to prevent downstream flooding.
The ponds (retention basins), between 1 and 103 acres in size, would be filled by gravity and emptied by pumping. About six ponds are recommended. Two currently exist.
This conventional solution would possibly solve the problems of the Ecorse Drain Basin communities.
And it does not involve Huron Township.
But both the consulting firm and the Corps also took a broader look at the general area and came up with a second option, a notion of a ditch, intended for a variation of purposes.

The consulting firm proposes a massive ditch, 13 feet at its deepest and 500 feet at its widest point, which would cut a swath from Romulus right down to the Huron River.
dams at each mile — road which would regulate the flow of water to the Huron River by means of a culvert — a cement structure in the dam with a hole in the middle of it.
The four streams of water, Frank and Poet, Blakely, Brownstown, and Silver Creek, would flow into ditch.
This massive ditch has been nicknamed Super Ditch.
The building of it would alleviate the flooding problems of not only the Ecorse dish since some of its water would flow into the ditch, but the problems of the dish below.
The Super Ditch would constitute a drainage system for Huron Township.
The U.S. Corps of Engineers proposes a ditch at the same site, but of a smaller size: about 5 feet deep and 230 feet at its widest.

This smaller ditch is proposed as an alternative solution to the flooding problems for only the Ecorse Basin. The ditch would be like a major artery opened up at the west end of the Ecorse Basin to push water down this ditch into the Huron River and out to the Detroit River.
William Rossow, Project Manager of the Corps study, emphasizes that the focus of the study is on the Ecorse Basin. Huron Township's drainage system would not patch into the Corps' version of the ditch.
Consequently, each of the four streams of France and Poet, Blakely, Brownstown, and Silver Creek, like two garden hoses crossing, would go either over or under the North-south ditch via drainage pipes.
Yet Rossow acknowledges that Huron Township could hypothetically patch into a ditch if it chose to. In which case the ditch would have to be expanded.
In other words, like the Super Ditch.
In any dimension, the ditch is considered feasible by the studies.
And at this point, it is only words ideas, not a reality. But if it were?
What would the ditch look like? It may look like grasscovered sunken land, except during a flood. It could be paved with concrete, or covered with it. It could start at Van Born Road and follow a path along and between Inkster and Middlebelt.
If Huron Township elected to be a part of it, it would be wide and deep with culverts and its three streams would flow into it. If the township elected not to be a part of it but allowed it to cut through for the sake of the Ecorse basin, it would be shallow and narrow. And if Huron Township did not want it on its land, it would zag radically to skirt the Township on the east.
And if no one wanted any ditch, the ditch would be merely an idea.
Is anybody in favor of it?
Huron Township Supervisor A.J. Haener has no firm conclusions on any option.
Township consulting engineer Jerry Jarret is opposed to the ditch. He is in favor of a separate drainage district for Huron Township for "cost-effective reasons."
But everybody will be able to gather their own information and make up their own mind at a public hearing May 4. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will explain, discuss, and answer questions at 7:30 p.m. at Huron High School.
China has its Great Wall.
Tennessee has its TVA.
Will Huron Township and Romulus get their Ditch?

And if Huron Township did not want it on its land, it would zag radically to skirt the Township on the east.
And if no one wanted any ditch, the ditch would be merely an idea.
Is anybody in favor of it?
Huron Township Supervisor A.J. Haener has no firm conclusions on any option.
Township consulting engineer Jerry Jarret is opposed to the ditch. He is in favor of a separate drainage district for Huron Township for "cost-effective reasons."
But everybody will be able to gather their own information and make up their own mind at a public hearing May 4. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will explain, discuss, and answer questions at 7:30 p.m. at Huron High School.
China has its Great Wall.
Tennessee has its TVA.
Will Huron Township and Romulus get their Ditch?

Wade's spectacular shows highlight Romulus Michigan Week

Would a festival or a fair be complete without carnival rides or games?
Never.
To complete the excitement of Michigan Week in Romulus, the prestigious W.G. Wade Shows will visit the city during the week of May 14 through May 22.
If the name sounds familiar, it is the same Wade Shows that provide the rides for the Michigan State Fair.

Established in 1912, Wade Shows have operated under the Wade family guidance providing entertainment for millions throughout the eastern portion of the United States, until three years ago when it was purchased by Frank Zaitshik.
Zaitshik, 37, was born into a carnival family in Portsmouth, Ohio, and now has his headquarters in Mason, Michigan during the summer and Mainmi, Florida in the winter. He boasts of not only having rides at the Michigan State Fair, but other fairs as well as the Texas State Fair.

Always concerned about the image of carnivals, Zaitshik has done much to improve the outward looks of Wade Shows.

"We've always talked about doing it, and I feel that we are a cut above other carnivals. We have a dress code, the ride operators wear a jumpsuit and the game operators wear a baseball-type shirt, however, the nature of the business being what it is, sometimes some of our people will get greasy or dirty, especially when there is a ride breakdown. We try to keep them identifiable," Zaitshik said.

HENRY WILKS

City bids 'gramps' good-bye

A gregarious and articulate resident called "Gramps" by many passed away last week.

Services were held for Henry Wilks, 85, a longtime resident of Romulus.

Mr. Wilks, who resided in the city for 46 years, was a veteran of the U.S. Army, having served in World War I.

"He just brought a lot of joy and humor to everyone who came into contact with him," a friend said. "I don't think that there is anyone who knew him that didn't come to love and respect him."

A member of Calvary Baptist Church, Mr. Wilks was known by many as "Gramps." His family consisted of: Pearl — wife; Robert Wilks, Calvin Wilks and Arlene Moyers — children; Robert and Sandy Wilks, Vicki and Paul England, Vonda Wilks, Susan Wilks, Ann Wilks, Leah and Bobby West and William Moyers — grandchildren; and Jerod and Amada Wilks — great grandchildren.

Mr. Wilks was employed as a security guard at Manufacturers Bank on Goddard until his retirement.

"We feel that our lives have been made richer by having known and loved him and our town a brighter place to live in because he passed this way," a family member said.

'Judgment day' in Huron

83 bus contract with the SEMTA service was approved by the board, and approval was also given for an application to be submitted for the '83-84 year with $6,967 to be paid by July 1.

The contract is for special bus service for children (to the Junior Olympics at Metropolitan Beach, for example) and for seniors.

The matter of approval of licenses of junk yards in Huron Township was tabled until the next meeting when two owners will be asked to clarify some questions as to the status of their concerns.

In a vote of 6-0, the Board voted to back a proposal by the Trenton City Council to eliminate the member-at-large position of the P.C.H.A. (People's Community Hospital Authority).

Township Clerk Mary Lou Carey explained that on occasion former members of the P.C.H.A. board try to get back on the board in an at-large position even though that member does not represent a specific community. The person may be a former P.C.H.A. executive, and exercise disproportionate influence on the board in an at-large position.

In another move of support, the Board voted unanimously to back the position of Mayor Frank Lada of Allen Park to halt the proposed closing of Veteran's Hospital.

Near the end of the 2½-hour session, Supervisor Haener speculated for the board that the Huron Township Police Department could function on the day shift with two men, instead of the current three.

One man would be on the road in a patrol car, and one would be behind the desk. Currently, one is behind the desk and two men are in separate patrol cars.

Treasurer Christini Gamber questioned the speculation, asking what would happen if the one officer needed help.

Haener replied that the officer would get the assistance of the State Police or Park Police.

A brief discussion then ensued as to the qualifications of an officer following speculation by the Supervisor of his promotion.

"Why do I get the feeling that this administration is going two steps backward for every step forward...," Gamber asked.

Supervisor Haener replied that the treasurer would have to begin to acknowledge the reality, that "...these are the facts of life, and you should start recognizing them."

Food for thought

Local educators will soon discover that classroom teaching of good eating habits can be exciting and appealing to their students.

To make their points, teachers at Merriman Elementary School will host a "Food...Your Choice Nutrition Workshop" from 3 to 4 p.m. on April 27. The school is located at 15303 Merriman Rd.

Making wise food choices is a learned skill which should be taught early. This solid foundation will be a benefit to the student's future good health and human performance.

Through the Dairy Council of Michigan's workshop, teachers will be given innovative ideas and activities which emphasize the Four Food Groups as the guide to good eating. The nutrition concepts can be taught throughout the school's curriculum by incorporating them into already existing courses such as math, reading, social studies, writing, art and health.

The families also reap benefits as the student carries home the current nutrition information.

If your group is interested in scheduling a similar workshop, please contact: Lillian Wyatt, Dairy Council of Michigan, Birmingham, Michigan, (313) 647-6110.

Thanks for the help

Romulus South Little League's dream of a baseball complex of its own is nearing reality, thanks, in part, to the help provided by community leaders and citizens. The Romulus Kiwanis Club recently helped the auxiliary put on a Pancake Breakfast to raise funds and for the

ANP names business manager

Free Press' Bob Gaberson joins Associated Newspapers

Robert Gaberson, the former assistant advertising director at The Detroit Free Press, has been appointed business manager of The Associated Newspapers, it was announced this week by David J. Willett, president and publisher.

Gaberson, 55, began his newspaper career with The Detroit News before joining The Free Press staff in 1971. During his 12 years with The Free Press he held a number of managerial positions including assistant advertising director, classified advertising manager and telephone sales manager.

"I worked with Bob Gaberson during my tenure at The Free Press," said Willett. "He's the type of dedicated professional and skilled manager that every publisher dreams of. I'm delighted that he has decided to join us in our endeavors."

"Bob Gaberson's arrival at The Associated Newspapers will help us in charting a new course that will impact on our company in a positive way."

ROBERT GABERSON

attended Western Michigan University and Wayne State University and formerly served as secretary-treasurer of the Detroit Typographical Union.

"Our challenge at The Associated Newspapers is to bring an effective advertising medium to the small retailer and businessman," said Gaberson in assessing his new responsibilities. "at a rate and quality that will enhance their business."

"A community newspaper can devote space for what's happening close to home," he added. "We all live in small areas and relate to things happening where we live. Yet it's impossible for the Metro papers to economically devote proper space for some of those events."

Gaberson and his wife of 33 years, Edythe, are the parents of two daughters, Terry and Joanne, and a son, Paul. The new business manager is a member of the board of directors of the downtown YMCA (past chairman) and Adcraft.

The Associated Newspapers publishes six newspapers on a weekly basis — The Wayne Eagle, Westland Eagle, Canton Eagle, Belleville Enterprise, Romulus Roman and Inkster Ledger Star.

Group W, Associated sign news agreement

Cable television subscribers in Wayne will receive daily local news programming and advertising information on cable channel 50, according to terms of an agreement reached last week in New York between Burton B. Staniar, president of Group W Cable, Inc., and David J. Willett, president of Associated Newspapers, Inc., which publishes The Wayne Eagle.

Community Vision Cable (CVC), an affiliate of Associated Newspapers, will provide a variety of local news, sports and other items of interest to subscribers of the Group W system in Wayne. Such programming commenced earlier this year while negotiations continued.

"We are delighted with the new arrangement," remarked Staniar. "It will be good for both our companies and for the citizens of Wayne."

For Community Vision Cable the agreement marked its second joint venture pact with a cable television firm in recent weeks. Barden Cablevision of Inkster, which operates cable television franchises in Inkster, Romulus and Van Buren Township, also has entered into an agreement to provide its Inkster subscribers with local news programming on the CVC cable channel.

"We identified some time ago the fact that we're in the communications business, not just the newspaper business," Willett said. "Our role is to provide information to the community and to help the community communicate with itself. Being a local news and advertising medium, we are exploring ways to continue our role using the latest technology.

"The world is changing and we must change with it."

Kevin C. Griffin, general manager of Group W Cable of Wayne, termed the agreement "a definite boon to our subscribers. Local programming is in their interests."

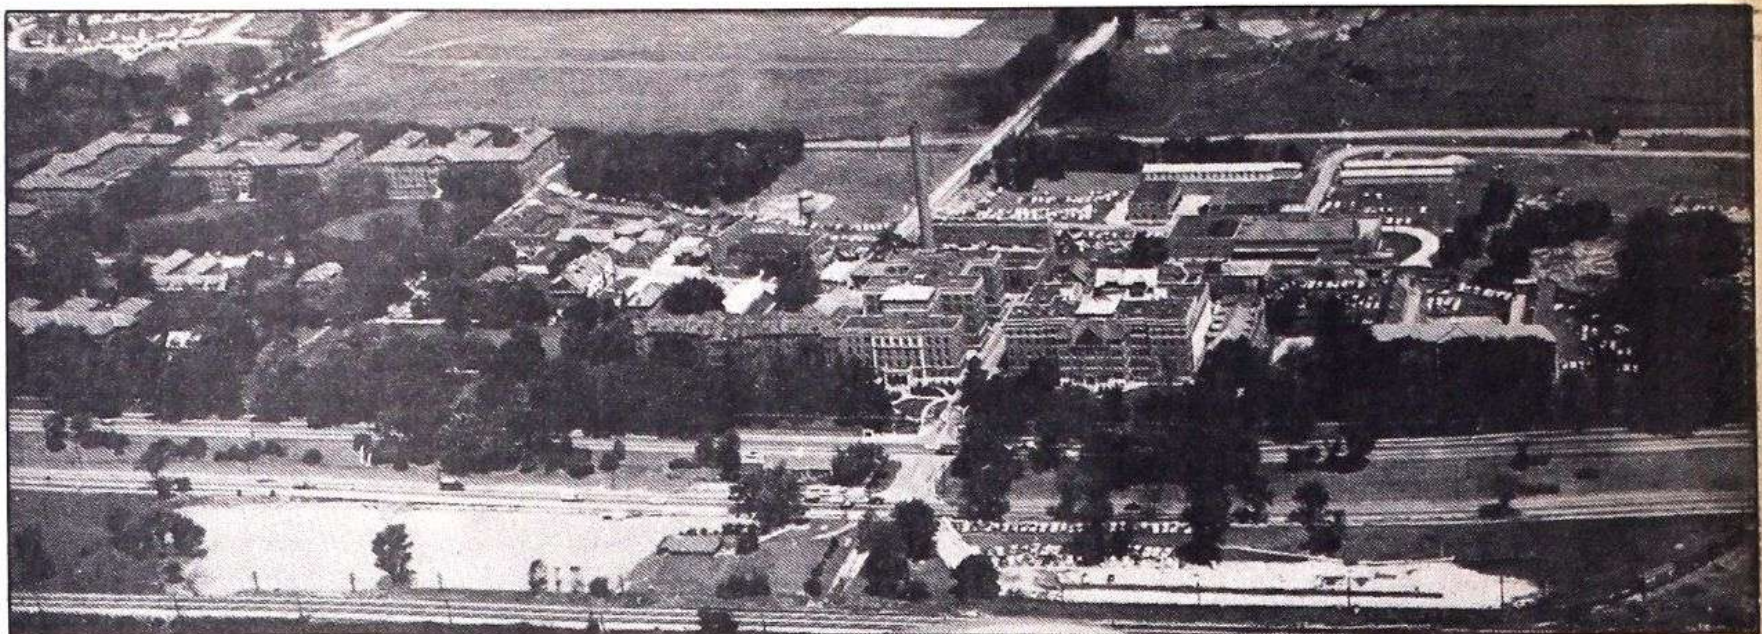

"When we come into a community we become a part of the community," he explained. "We're not an outsider looking in. We're excited with the opportunity to provide local news."

In addition to its local daily programming on cable systems owned by Barden Cablevision and Group W Cable, a subsidiary of Westinghouse Broadcasting and Cable, Inc., CVC provides a local news and information service on cable channel nine of the Omnicom of Michigan system. Cable channel nine serves the communities of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Canton Township, Northville and Northville Township.

CVC also will publish the Barden Cablevision Cable Magazine for approximately 4,000 Inkster subscribers beginning next month.

"We believe that through the cable we will provide an additional service to our readers that is needed and wanted," said Willett. "And it will contribute to the betterment of the communities we serve."

Persons wishing to contact the CVC news or advertising departments can call 729-4000 or 729-4008.

In the future Study looks at new uses for Eloise

By SUE McDONALD
ANP News Editor

The first steps toward the development of Wayne County General Hospital-Eloise have been taken by the City of Westland and Wayne County with the initiation of a preliminary feasibility study of its re-usage.

The preliminary study, which is being done by William Tucker of the Wayne County Economic Development Corporation, is the prelude to a more comprehensive study and the application for a federal Public Works grant.

The initial study is being financed by $1,500 in Community Development Block Grant funds, approved by the Westland City Council last week. It is estimated that the second study will cost an additional $30,000 to $40,000 and also be financed with CD funds.

Under study is the Wayne-County General Hospital-Eloise complex, more than 530 acres of land that straddles Michigan Avenue at Merriman Road in Westland.

A majority of the buildings on the site have sat vacant for years and have been the target of vandals and thieves, who have pried brass and copper fittings from the buildings for their price as reclaimed metal.

The county first began developing the site in 1839 as the county poor-house and at its peak, was a self-contained complex with its own gardens, cattle and pig farms, bakery, laundry, schoolhouse, fire department and electrical plant and theater.

Use of the buildings ceased in 1978 with the closing of the county's psychiatric unit and long-term care facility.

The electrical plant still provides power for the General Hospital, located east of the original complex, and several buildings are used by the county for a senior citizen drop-in center and jail annex.

Maintenance of the site currently costs the deficit-ridden Wayne County $3 million a year, and if the studies provide feasible development alternatives, it appears that Public Works money could be obtained for the demolition of the structures, presently roadblocks in the development of the site.

Mayor Charles Pickering believes city financing of the study will work to the advantage of Westland, which will have more control over what actually goes on the property.

He hopes to present council with the preliminary study by next week in hopes of garnering their support for the more extensive study.

"I think that once the council sees the preliminary study they will be in favor of the second study," he explained. "It's development will put a large piece of property on the tax rolls."

Although the mayor favors development of the property as senior citizen housing, he admits that the studies will indicate what will be the best development for the site.

Although Wayne County has expressed an interest in selling the acreage, the land could be developed as a lease arrangement. That, too, would be determined in the study.

The Wayne County Economic Development Corporation has assured the city of its cooperation from the initial planning to the final possible development of the property.

The speed in which the two studies must be done are necessitated by the availability of Public Works funds, which may dry up by the end of May.

WCGH survives crucial test

A new ordinance providing for the operation, maintenance, and administration of Wayne County General Hospital passed its first hurdle in the Human Resources Committee and has been sent on to the county's Ways and Means Committee for further action.

The proposed ordinance was sponsored by Commissioner Kay Beard representing the 12th District, where the facility is located. She is also Chairperson of the Human Resources Committee.

According to Ms. Beard's ordinance, it will implement the Wayne County Charter's Section 3.117 (Public County Hospital Facility) which requires the county commission to provide the hospital's operation to assure adequate levels of physical and mental health service for county residents.

Commissioner Beard N. Kilpatrick, the only one to oppose the ordinance, noted the language of the document did not include input by the county executive, who, he added, is supposed to administer the hospital under terms of the charter.

Before becoming law, the ordinance must weather three hearings, action by the county commissioners and a possible veto by the executive.

In a related issue, the committee also approved, 2-1, a request by the executive to hire Touche Ross, Co. to prepare another study of the hospital as part of his reorganizational program.

"Just what we need — another study," noted Beard, pointing to a two-foot pile of other studies dating back to 1954. "We've already had fifteen such inspections at a cost of over $1 million and another one is being completed now by the Ernst & Whin-ney Co. as part of a county-wide auditing."

A letter from the county executive requesting the new study indicates the company had already spent six

Former Belleville High student John A. March (above) captured two impressive titles, winning "Mr. National Male Model for 1983" and "Mr. National Cover Model of 1983" in competitions held in Southfield and sponsored by the North American pageant Productions Systems. The theme of the contest, "Spotlight on You" included dancing, modeling, mime and TV commercials categories. March is a graduate of the Austin School of Professional Modeling and the Weistbarron School of Television in Southfield. He'll be leaving for New York next week for interviews with New York modeling agencies.

Gilstaf, Donlovich will spearhead cancer fund drive in area

April is Cancer Control Month and once again the Romulus-Belleville residents will be visiting their neighbors with life-saving information about cancer while asking for contributions to assist in the control of the disease.

The American Cancer Society's annual fund raising and educational drive will be held April 23 through May 2.

Marsha Gilstaf, Community Chairperson for Romulus is spearheading the drive and will coordinate the efforts of 348 volunteers who will visit their neighbors with life-saving information about cancer. The goal in Romulus is to raise $2,055. Last year volunteers raised $1,586.

In the meantime, Joan Donlovich, Community Chairperson for Belleville is spearheading the drive and will coordinate the efforts of 245 volunteers who will visit their neighbors with life-saving information about cancer. The goal in Belleville is to raise $1,624. Last year volunteers raised $1,388.

Each American Cancer Society volunteer will distribute a new leaflet which tells some of the advances in diagnosis and treatment for cancer, while emphasizing the Seven Warning Signals.

Connie Richards, Metro Detroit Residential Crusade Chairperson, said, "The purpose of the Cancer Crusade is two-fold. Raising money to support our program is important, but so is telling people about prevention and early detection."

Overall in the Detroit Metropolitan Area, 15,000 American Cancer Society volunteers hope to raise 475,000 from the door-to-door campaign. These monies, along with the dollars raised through the efforts of other Society fund-raising projects, will fund a variety of research projects, provide service to patients and educational programs for schools, businesses, and organizations.

American Cancer Society research grants currently in effect in Michigan account for the largest amount of research funding at any one time in the history of the ACS, with twenty-three grants totalling $2,223,711. The University of Michigan has fourteen grants totalling $1,250,002; Michigan State University has five, totalling $298,174; Wayne State University with three grants totalling $558,188, and a grant to the Michigan Cancer Foundation totalling $117,347.

For patients and their families, the American Cancer Society offers a variety of rehabilitative services: "I Can Cope", "Adopt-a-Patient", "Focus on Living" and "Reach to Recovery". Educational programs are available at no charge to schools, businesses and organizations.

Local residents earn Cleary scholarships

Cleary College has selected the winners of the 1982-83 Michigan Business Schools Association (MBSA) scholarships for both its Ypsilanti and Livingston campuses.

The MBSA scholarships are given each year to students who plan to attend accredited member schools such as Cleary College, to assist students through the first two years of their education. The scholarships are based on academic performance through the end of the student's junior year in high school. Extra-curricular activities are given consideration when two students have equally outstanding records.

Ten students were selected from each of the two Cleary campuses. The scholarship is awarded in the amount of $1200 to each student.

Children who play with matches

Belleville firefighters to offer aid

The Belleville firefighters and the National Institute of Burn Medicine have joined forces to offer a program to counsel and educate children who play with fire and matches.

It is estimated almost half of school-age children are reported by their mothers as having played with matches on at least one occasion and 21 percent as having set an actual fire.

In 1980, in Michigan, 7,816 fires of known origin were set by children. Over 2,000 of these fires were in Wayne County.

Project chairperson and Director of Rehabilitation for the NIBM, M. Leora Bowden describes the program:

"We have trained selected firefighters from Belleville to recognize problems in children who may lead to recurrent firesetting, taught them methods and strategies for educating children who play with matches and their families, and provided them with resource material for this education."

Many fire departments in Washtenaw and Livingston Counties have participated in the two-session training course. Belleville is the first city in Wayne County.

"Many parents, teachers and counselors refer children who play with matches and set fires to the fire departments for education and counseling, and this course will enable the firefighters to respond in the most helpful way possible," Bowden added.

Parents who have children that play with matches or know of children who play with matches or set fires should contact the Belleville Fire Department for more information about this project. Telephone 697-9337, and ask for firefighter Jack Holsombeck or Thomas Griffin.

The program to counsel and educate children who play with fire is being sponsored by a grant from the Ann Arbor Area Foundation, the Independent Insurance Agents of Ann Arbor, the Washtenaw County Mutual Aid Association, The Kiwanis Clubs of Whitmore Lake, The Altar Society of St. Anthony's Catholic Church of Belleville, the Belleville Firefighters.

Wheeling and stealing

Bikes are 'prime loot'

(Bicycle season has officially opened in the Belleville-Van Buren area, and Cathy Horste, Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs' Crime Reduction Chairman, who also serves as the Crime Prevention Officer for the Van Buren Township Police Department, brings us the fourth in a series of crime prevention tips — this one on how to prevent thieves from making off with your bike.)

By PTLM. CATHY HORSTE

Thinking back a few years ago, bicycles were, for the most part, considered toys. When one disappeared, it was usually because some youngster took it for a joy ride and failed to bring it back. Unfortunately, that's often not the case today. Many bicycles are hardly toys — especially those equipped with finely machined gears and accessories.

As a result, bicycles are stolen in great numbers by professional thieves.

Bicycles are often stolen from lawns or porches and out of unlocked garages at night. School yards, playgrounds and employee parking lots are popular targets of bike thieves during the daytime. Spring has sprung - so don't make it easy for a thief to steal your bicycle. It is time to remind the kids and remind yourself of these few simple theft-prevention rules to help you "keep on biking":

- Register all bicycles with the appropriate agency. Both Van Buren Township and City of Belleville Police can give you more information on bicycle registration.

- Permanently etch your driver's license number on the frame of all the family's bicycles. This marking may deter theft, and will aid in the bicycle being returned to you should it be stolen and later recovered by police.

- Report any theft of bicycles to the police. Once word gets around that the cops are looking for bikes, thefts in that particular neighborhood usually decrease.

- Don't leave bicycles on the lawn, on the porch or in an unlocked garage - especially at night. If a bicycle must be left unattended anywhere, it should be secured to a solidly fixed object - such as a tree or a bike rack, with a good quality chain and lock. The chain should be looped through both wheels and through the frame.

- Regularly remind your children that just as bicycle safety rules will reduce the chances of their being hurt in an accident, crime safety practices will reduce the chance that their bike will be stolen.

- Be a wise parent - look in your garage occasionally to see whose bicycles are in there. If bicycles belonging to a "friend" of your child often appear on your property overnight without an accompanying child, be suspicious that your child might be involved in bicycle theft. Investigate any borrowed, loaned or given as a gift bicycle immediately.

- Encourage school and recreation authorities to provide secure bike racks. Carry and use your own lock and chain. Keep your wits and keep your wheels.

For more information on these and other crime prevention ideas, or to obtain a speaker for your school or community group, contact Ptlm. Cathy Horste, Van Buren Township Crime Prevention Bureau, 699-2001.

Boy Scouts launch food for needy drive

One of the largest food drives ever undertaken in the Western Wayne County area — mobilizing 10,000 Boy Scouts in seven counties — was announced today in an effort to help address the problem of hunger in Southeastern Michigan.

Sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America, the "Scouting for Food" collection and distribution drive will provide food for needy individuals and families in the seven-county area.

"Scouting for Food" will involve 10,000 Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts to drop off collection bags at homes on April 16 and pick up food-filled bags on April 23.

In addition, the program will include 200 high-school age Explorers to staff the collection points and 600 Scout leaders to supervise the effort.

"We are painfully aware that hunger is a major problem in our country, particularly in Southeastern Michigan," said Walter R. Greene, Chairman of the "Scouting for Food" drive and Vice President, National Bank of Detroit.

"At the request of the United Community Services (UCS), last summer we started to plan the largest food collection effort for the needy in the area," he explained.

If each residence contributes five pounds of food, "Scouting for Food" will collect approximately 1,000,000 pounds of food for needy community families.

Anyone interested in helping in the volunteer effort should contact the Boy Scouts of America; in Detroit (897-1965) or Ann Arbor (971-7100).

Minding their P's (patches) and Q's (quilts)

When senior citizens in Romulus get together you can be assured they mind their "P's & Q's," which translated means patches and quilting. Under the guidance of instructor Judy Frederick, these two seniors Bernice Worden (at left) and Nell Shepperd (at right) are putting together an interesting array of colorful designs. The group meets from 2 to 4 p.m. each Friday at the Romulus Senior Center.

Senate Committee to conduct surrogate parenting hearings

State Senator Patrick H. McCollough (D-Dearborn) today announced the Senate Committee on Health and Social Services will conduct a public hearing on Friday, April 22, on Senate Bill 63, which would prohibit surrogate parenting.

McCollough, Committee Chairman, said the hearing would begin at 1:30 p.m. in Adray Auditorium of the MacKenzie Fine Arts Center at Henry Ford Community College, 5101 Evergreen, Dearborn.

The proposed legislation would prohibit anyone from agreeing or contracting with a woman to bear a child through artificial insemination and from taking custody of such a baby.

A first violation of the law would be a misdemeanor punishable by 90 days in jail, or a $10,000 fine or both. A subsequent conviction would be a felony punishable by five years in prison, or a $10,000 fine or both.

"Surrogate parenting has become a very sensitive and controversial issue," McCollough said. "The Senate Committee on Health and Social Services is conducting this hearing to obtain information that is relevant to the issue and the proposed legislation," he added.

Tobi's top speller at Elwell

Tobi Russell again emerged as the Spelling Bee Champion at Elwell Elementary School.

Russell, a sixth grade student, won the same competition last year and went on to ultimately down some 32 challengers from each of the eight elementary schools to become the Van Buren Public Schools District 5th and 6th grade spelling bee champion.

Tobi is the daughter of Clarence and Sharron Russell of Wear Road, Belleville. Tobi will go on to compete in the District competition. Stephanie Gubaci, 5th grade student at Elwell Elementary School was the 1st Runner-up.

She is the daughter of Connie and Paul Gubaci of Willis Road, Belleville.

She will now compete in the Area Spelling Bee which is to be held at the Savage Road Elementary on Thursday, April 21 at 9:30 a.m.

Tobi's top speller

was the runner-up in the thrilling spell-down.

House Bill provides guidelines for aid in depressed areas

Legislation to provide guidelines for state assistance to Michigan communities facing financial emergencies has been introduced in the Michigan House of Representatives.

The bill is designed to allow the state to intervene when serious financial problems arise in communities. Under present law, Michigan can lend cities in distress financial aid, but the state has very little control over how the money is managed and spent.

Not only is this bill designed to assist financially strapped cities, but it will also protect Michigan's credit ratings and the credit of local communities by allowing the state to require prudent fiscal management.

Under the provisions of the bill, the state treasurer would investigate a local unit of government which is facing default, cannot meet its payrolls or make pension payments, or meet other financial responsibilities. The treasurer would consult with local officials and report to the Governor. The report could recommend that a financial management team be selected by the Governor to assist the unit.

When the Governor receives the team's report, he can determine whether a financial emergency does exist in a given community and direct the Local Financial Emergency Assistance Loan Board to appoint an emergency financial control manager to develop a financial plan with the help of local officials. This manager would conduct a study of the factors and circumstances that led to the crisis and would make the appropriate recommendations to correct them. The emergency financial control manager would also be responsible for estimating what cash resources are available and to ensure that the local government conducts its business within the limits set by the state.

An important feature of the bill is that local officials are involved with the entire process and have ample opportunities to respond to reports, meet with the Governor, and even go to court.

"This is not a state takeover bill," said State Rep. Gerald Law (R). "The assistance and cooperation of local officials is an essential part of it. They may or may not have been part of the problem, but we definitely want them to be part of the solution."

"I am convinced that the economic survival of our communities is vitaly necessary to the interests of the people of this state who pay for and rely on government services."

"It is up to the Legislature to recognize the health and welfare of our citizens would be jeopardized by government insolvency at any level and to take steps to prevent it," he concluded.

Sharing, caring

Belleville's Mike McArthur (above) was among those who were singled out this week by St. Joseph Hospital employees as one of the top volunteers. He's been a volunteer since June of 1982. The Belleville High freshman will be awarded a pin for the 300 hours of service he has given. When McArthur first began his volunteer work he was assigned to work in engineering where he did painting and yard work, and Mike's currently working in the print shop.

Snow can't stop Pinewood Derby

Neither the unseasonal cold weather or the snow can stop Pack 1740 which held its annual Pinewood Derby over the weekend.

Before the race started a dedication ceremony was held honoring the people who made the race possible for our Pack to have its own track.

A plaque bearing the following words was affixed to the track: Pack 1740 Constructed by Jerry Jones, Bill Eichendorf, Don Wellman. Materials Donated By Lonnie Warren.

After the dedication, the race began. The Pack's first place winner was Shawn Moore; 2nd place medal winner Tom Estep; 3rd place medal winner Aaron Lawson.

Shawn will have his name engraved on the large Park trophy to be displayed in the school showcase. All three cars are presently displayed there now. The den winners were as follows: Den I — 1st place Lonnie Warren; 2nd place, Jason Jones; 3rd place Bruce Driver; Den 2 — 1st place Leonard Kubitski; 2nd place Ronnie Buck; 3rd place Joey Braem; Weblo Den 1 — 1st place Jeff Gesler; 2nd place Bob Kaminski; 3rd place Brandon Lawson.

A race was also held between leaders with Bill Eichendorf, Cubmaster 1st place winner; Harold Buck, 2nd place winner and Harriet Buck 3rd place winner.

The judges Frank and Sue Dorado, Jerry Moers, Lonnie Warren; starter Harold Buck and score keeper Harriet Buck.

Cancer benefit set

The Conroy-Renye-McNeil Post and Auxiliary V.F.W. 4422 will sponsor a Benefit Show for Cancer Aid and Research on April 23 at the Al Sheridan Community Center located at 12111 Pardee Road at 7:00 P.M. in Taylor. The program is the first sponsored in this area for Cancer Aid and Research. The community is invited and all tickets are on a first-come-first-serve-basis.

Entertainers for the evening performance will be the Interstate Band featuring Sherman Arnold with a tribute to Elvis, and Young Country with Mr. Paul Webb and others.

There will be refreshments available and also dancing for the evening.

WCGH ordinances passes initial test

(from Page 4) weeks preparing the ground work. "I'd like to know who authorized them to start," Ms. Beard asked. "Contracts must come before the county commission before they are begun. If we object to this study, who pays for the six weeks they've already worked?"

Said Kilpatrick, "If we wait for the county commissioners to act, we'll never get anything done. It just holds up the reorgani-zational process."

"Well," commented Commissioner Clarence R. Young, a seasoned member of the County Board, "some of the people here are not familiar with the operations of county government, however, the 'meter' is running and if we don't send this on for consideration by other commissioners Touche Ross Co. will probably charge us another two weeks work."

Also speaking in favor of the additional study was David McCann, representing the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, who asserted that none of the previous studies had considered alternate plans such as leasing or selling the hospital.

"I don't believe McCann has read the other studies," commented Dr. Ramon Joseph, a WCGH staff spokesman, "or he would know that one made in 1977 included such options." Dr. Joseph also noted that field all of my life," he added, "and I've never heard of Touche Ross."

Spotlight on Romulus schools

Despite cutbacks, students enjoy programs

BARTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL Project Bunny

Henrietta Simms' fourth grade class found that sewing can be a rewarding and interesting way to learn.

A class project of bunny pillows finished off a unit about rabbits and the traditions and history of Easter.

Students brought the materials to class and with the help of room mothers Marie Fitzhugh, Carol McNett, and Emma Parker out-out, stuffed and sewed an Easter bunny pillow to take home.

The hard work was followed by a surprise party given by the teacher and room mothers.

CORY ELEMENTARY SCHOOL Crafty Kids

The art of advertising was the name of the game in a recent craft session for students in Victoria Roberts' sixth grade class.

Local artist and mother, Pam Fraser introduced the concept of advertising to the children, who created original products, then designed and made signs to advertise their new ideas.

Stocky Peanut Butter, developed by Elijah Smith won best product among the entries. Tillytown Tissue, originated by Amy Harriff and Trina's Tasty Tricky Treats by Trina May tied for second place.

In other sessions with Mrs. Fraser, students worked with clay and made drawings.

Along with the artwork, needlecraft is being taught by parents Carol Harriff and Sue Wallen. They are instructing students who are interested in making needlepoint projects.

The children enjoy the extra activities and work hard to earn free time so that they may participate in the weekly arts and crafts sessions.

CORY ELEMENTARY SCHOOL Honesty

Honesty is a good policy, according to Tyrone Jones, a first grader at Cory Elementary School.

The lucky boy found a dollar on the bus that morning, but instead of claiming "Finders, keepers", Tyrone promptly turned the dollar into the office. He was just in time to return it to the student who had lost his lunch money on the way to school that day.

BEST-KEPT SECRET

Elaine Baluk, second grade teacher, was showered with gifts by her students on March 29.

The mother-to-be was presented gifts for her baby who is expected in early May.

The surprise party was organized by parents Linda DesJardins and Joyce Evans. The students helped to keep the plans a surprise right up to the last moment.

SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting to discuss the asbestos problem and the millage election was held in the library on Wednesday, April 13.

Dr. William Bedell, Superintendent and members of the Board of Education was present.

HALECREEK

Third and fourth graders at Halecreek enjoyed their Easter party at the Safari Skating Rink on March 31.

SIXTH GRADE RAFFLE

Sixth graders sold raffle tickets to raise funds for their upcoming Toronto trip on June 6, 7, and 8.

First prize was a color television set won by Edward Wilkerson, Jr. Second prize was a Brother Free Arm Sewing Machine, and was won by Roger Green.

Third prize, an AM-FM cassette player, was won by Michelle Duprey.

FIELD TRIP TO CRANBROOK

Fifth and sixth/sixth grade split classes went to Cranbrook Institute during March.

Students were accompanied by teachers Cherryl Brackney, Kathryn Motyka, and Joan Olszewski on the trip.

NERF TOURNAMENT

The annual nerf tournament held by fifth and sixth grade classes resulted in a win by the sixth graders.

HAYTI ELEMENTARY SCHOOL Community Helpers

First graders in Dawn Pluff's classroom learned about their community by learning about some of its workers. A visit during March by the mailman, librarian, fire men, and members of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department provided students with an informative view of their jobs.

Students saw demonstrations of how clothing and equipment help in getting the job done and were able to handle some things themselves. They learned about the responsibilities of the various professions and some fire and bike safety rules.

The students followed up the visits by making booklets to report what they learned about community helpers.

First-grader Anne Mellnick felt the mailman had the most important job because he had to protect the mail, but thought all of the speakers were interesting and helpful.

MERRIMAN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL Father-Child Banquet

The Merriman P.T.A. is hosting its annual Father-Child Banquet on April 28.

The dinner will be followed by entertainment by clowns and a bingo game.

The event is an opportunity for father to socialize with his children and give mother some free time for herself. The children enjoy this special evening for themselves.

This is the ninth year that the P.T.A. has hosted the banquet.

Teachers Caryn Ackers, Phyllis Adkins, Ann Reynolds, Jeffery Royal, and Cassandra Sanchez; and Frank Curry, Director of Special Services accompanied the students.

Parents' response to the request for volunteers to assist the students was excellent, and helped to make the trip pleasurable for all.

By MARY SILVEY Oboist in the Symphonic Band) Eighth Grade Student

After Christmas vacation, the bands started to prepare for the Band Festival, reading through over 40 selections during the month of January. Director Kruse kept track of selections which he felt would be best for our band this year.

The Concert and Symphonic Bands had a combined rehearsal after school in order to determine the selections which would be played at the Festival.

The bands at the Junior high are in different classes, and the only time we hear how the full band sounds is at a combined rehearsal.

In February, we started to prepare our three Band Festival selections and worked on Sight Reading, starting with two unknown pieces just as we would at the Festival.

On Feb. 24, we had a Band-a-thon, where both bands were combined so that we had a one hundred and ninety-three piece band. The band then sight read over thirty pieces while playing for over three hours. At the end of the Band-a-thon, we had a pizza party.

On March 2nd, the Symphonic Band played two programs for Cory Elementary School and on March 3 the Concert Band played two performances for Wick Elementary School. Before these performances, Kruse had sectional rehearsals with each section of the Band after school on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Then on Tuesday, March 8 both bands played two assemblies for our Junior High students. Mr. Kruse gave each student a judges' sheet and explained how the bands were rated.

He then asked each student to listen carefully and rate the bands after their performance, which made a lot of kids in the Band try really hard. Both assemblies gave the Symphonic Band a "1" rating.

We did not have class so we had an after school rehearsal and again on Friday. On Saturday, March 12 we went to the Band Festival at Ida.

First, we listened to some other bands who were pretty good. We knew that we would have to play well in order to get a "1" rating.

When we came onto the stage there was a big cheer. This made everyone feel really good. The auditorium was packed and we were ready to play. After we finished the audience clapped loudly and gave us a standing ovation.

Mr. Kruse was smiling so I thought that we had a chance at a "1" rating.

Then we went into Sight Reading.

Everybody was concentrating really hard when we discussed the two pieces. After we finished, the Judge we finished, the Judge remarked that we were the only band in the last two weeks to do the the Judge remarked that we were the only band in the last two weeks to do the second selection correctly and complimented us on our performance.

Then came the wait. Everyone put their instrument away and went down to the scoreboard to wait for the ratings to be posted. The wait seemed like forever, but finally the Festival chairman came out of the office. The room got real quite and everyone crowded around the scoreboard.

The first "1" went up and there was a loud cheer. Then the second "1", the third "1", and the "1" in Sight Reading and the final "1". That brought forth the loudest cheer of all.

On the way home we asked Mr. Kruse if we could go to Cedar Point again this year. He said that he would do everything he could to reward us for our hard work and success at the Festival. The Band also voted to go to the State Festival on May 7th.

We really appreciate all the help Mr. Kruse gave us and we think he did a terrific job. We would never have made it with any other conductor.

Advance reading aid to college hopefuls

The advanced reading techniques class at Romulus High School has been highly successful. The class is designed for college-bound juniors and seniors. It emphasizes speed reading, study skills for college, preparation for college entrance exams, and computer applications.

This is the first year the class was offered. The class provides the students with flexibility in scheduling because it is held sixth hour and only lasts for ten weeks.

Four sessions are available throughout the school year. Students are able to schedule one of the four sessions around their sports commitments and other extra-curricular activities.

So far this year, three sessions have been completed. The students have enjoyed the class immensely and feel it will be very beneficial for their college career. Several students remarked that all the kids planning to go to college should take this class.

Many of the students have found the speed reading helpful in their current classes and can read a two hundred page book in an hour. The average word per minute score went from approximately 230 wpm to 850 wpm. Comprehension was increased from approximately 70 to 73 percent.

The class will be offered again next year. Any juniors or seniors who plan to attend college should definitely take advanced reading techniques. Also, above average readers who want to increase their reading speed and comprehension may sing up for the class.

Seminar is scheduled

A seminar will be held on May 6 to help parents, particularly those of Compensatory Education and Head Start students, become better parents.

Classes will be conducted in three sessions and include:

Kindergarten Readiness, Make It and Take It.

Modification Behavior through Parent Effectiveness.

Single Parenting.

Children and Divorce.

How Parents can help their Hyperactive Child.

Language Development.

Prevent Alcohol and Drug Abuse.

Teen-Agers and Parents Coping Together.

Health Problems and Nutrition.

The keynote address by Dr. James E. House is on "Parents as Learning Partners".

The Wayne County Computer Team will present the microcomputer as a learning tool for children.

The entire program is from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Wayne County Intermediate District office and is $10 per person, which includes lunch and materials.

Any person who is interested should contact his nearest school for information or to register for the conference.

At Bonstelle

Romulus' Lambert is aboard Pinafore

Robert Lambert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lambert of Romulus is appearing in "H.M.S. Pinafore," Gilbert and Sullivan's rollicking nautical musical, which opens at the Bonstelle Theatre April 22 for a two week-end run. Performances are scheduled for Fridays and Saturdays at 8:00 p.m. and Sundays at 2:00 p.m. through May 1.

Subtitled "The Lass that Loved a Sailor," "H.M.S. Pinafore" pokes fun at Victorian notions of rank and station. Peopled with a cast of genteel sailors of both the good and bad variety, a kindly captain complete with a lovely daughter, and a pompous yet liberal-minded admiral, "H.M.S. Pinafore's" clever but convoluted plot includes criss-crossed love affairs, mistaken identities, timely discoveries, and unlikely resolutions.

Although written and composed nearly one hundred years ago, Gilbert and Sullivan's works remain as popular today as when originally performed. Other recently revived works by these famous collaborators include: "The Pirates of Penzance," "The Mikado," "The Gondoliers," "Patience" and "Iolanthe."

Lambert, a graduate of Romulus Senior High School and presently a senior at Wayne State University, is appearing as Ralph Rackstraw in "H.M.S. Pinafore." He is a veteran of both the Studio and Bonstelle stages, where he has appeared as Orlando in "As You Like It," as Bob Cratchit in "A Christmas Carol," as Charley in "Charley's Aunt," as Frank in "Wonderful Town," and as Algernon in "The Importance of Being Earnest." Bob is a Blakely Scholarship recipient, has sung and danced for King's Island in Ohio and is a member of the Movin' Theatre, recently featured at the Bonstelle in "Steps in Time."

The production is directed by Russell Smith with musical direction by Richard Berent, scenic design by Carl F. Gudenius, costumes by Anthony C. Dobrowolski, and lighting by Kenneth F. Evans.

Tickets and information are available from the Wayne State University Theatre box office, Cass and Hancock in Detroit, 48202. Reservations may be made by calling 577-2960. Information on group rates is available by calling 577-3010.

Brown is on Northwood dean's list

Timothy E. Brown of Romulus has been named to the Dean's List for winter term announced Edgar A. Madden, vice president of academics and dean of the college.

List recognition, students must earn a 3.0 grade-point on a 4.0 scale.

Northwood Institute is a private, tax-exempt, independent, coeducational busi-

tion Center in West Palm Beach, Florida and The Northwood Institute Margaret Chase Smith Library Center in Skowhegan, Maine.

Present: Supervisor Reeves, Clerk Banotai, Treasurer Hoffman and Trustees: Morgan and Humphreys

Absent: Trustees: Bevins and Huziak

Also present: Attorney Turnbull, Auditor Smythe and Deputy Clerk Sienko. Five citizens were also in attendance.

Motion by Morgan, supported by Humphreys to accept the agenda. Motion carried unanimously.

Agenda

1. Pledge
2. Roll Call
3. Approval of Agenda
4. Intended Use of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds
5. Adjournment

Supervisor Reeves went through the Intended Use of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds as follows:

Environmental Protection (Rubbish Pick-up)	$ 49,000.00
Police Wages	51,000.00
Fire Wages	10,000.00
Recreation	500.00
Total Expenditures	$110,500.00

Supervisor Reeves asked if any one had any questions.

Rose Cooper asked what the $500.00 Recreation Fund was to be used for. Supervisor explained it was used for park maintenance and the sponsoring of different ball teams.

Cynthia Holmes asked if all children could play on the ball teams. Trustee Morgan read a notice that had been put in all papers, church papers and put wherever children would gather to see it. The notice consisted of the place, date and time of try-outs for all age groups. All children in the community are welcome.

No more questions were forthcoming from the audience or the Board. Supervisor called for a motion.

Motion by Morgan, supported by Humphreys to approve the Intended Use of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds as presented. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Hoffman, supported by Morgan to adjourn. Meeting adjourned at 7:35 P.M.

Belleville's Eccles recipient of MSU scholarship award

Among 21 of the nation's top high school seniors who have won a coveted Michigan State University academic award is a Belleville High senior.

He's Kenneth W. Eccles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Eccles, of 9445 Van Buren, Belleville. Kenneth ranks first in his Belleville High School class of 437 with a 4.0 grade point average and he plans to major in biochemistry.

Eccles is the recipient of the Distinguished Freshman Scholarship.

The valuable scholarship covers tuition for four years of study at MSU. At 1982-83 tuition rates — and based upon an average of 15 credit hours per term — the award is worth more than $6,700 to Michigan residents and about $15,000 to out-of-state residents.

If tuition rates increase, the scholarship stipend will increase accordingly.

Winners were runners-up in the prestigious MSU Alumni Distinguished Scholarship competition. The ADS winners were announced earlier. Approximately 800 high school students took the intensive ADS exam at MSU in February. The test covered the natural and social sciences, art, literature, humanities and general knowledge.

The Distinguished Freshman Scholarship program is in its fifth year and is supported by the alumni of MSU through the Scholarship Fund.

Twelve 1983 winners are from Michigan, two from New York, two from Ohio, and one each from Minnesota, Indiana, Missouri, Wisconsin, and Nebraska. Thirteen winners were all-A students.

They're going to Cedar Point

By CHERI LaPRAIRIE
North Junior High School

This year's trip to Cedar Point is being organized through the efforts of Bob Fowler, president of the Tiger Booster Club, Ray Paponetti and Mrs. Barb Uchman, Van Buren bus drivers.

The Van Buren Public Schools bus drivers are donating their time to drive students to Cedar Point. The trip is open to students in grades seven through twelve.

The date of the trip is Tuesday, June 21. The cost per student is $18. The park's admission fee is $7.75 and the balance of $10.25 is being donated to the Booster Club to help fund the 1983-84 sports program. Permission slips signed by the parents will be required.

Everyone will meet behind Belleville High School at 6:30 a.m. on Tuesday, June 21. The buses will leave the school at 7:00 a.m. and will return to the Belleville High School parking lot between 12 and 12:30 Tuesday evening.

"We, the Van Buren Public Schools bus drivers and students of North Junior High School would like to thank the Board of Education and Randy Buss for their support of this trip and for allowing the bus drivers to help the Tiger Booster Club support our students' sports program."

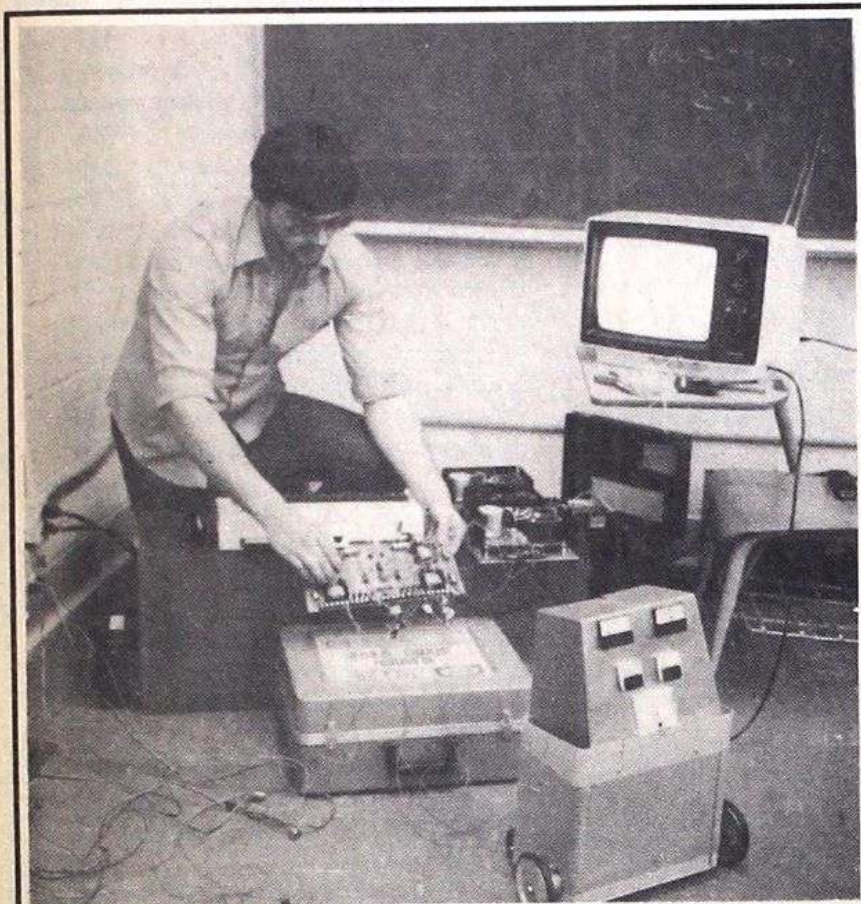

For additional information regarding the Cedar Point trip, contact any bus driver, the Van Buren Transportation Department, or attend the next Tiger Booster meeting on Wednesday, May 11, at 7 p.m. in room A-19, Belleville High School.

Auf wiedersehen

Members of the Belleville High German classes are looking forward to their trip to Frankenmuth, planned for Sat., May 7. The students are selling candy bars to help finance the all-day tour to the northwest community largely inhabited by German-speaking Americans. Planning the trip are Denise Lucas (above from left), Karen Hungerford, Harold Grubbaugh, John Coleman and Mike Schmidt. The purpose of the trip, according to teacher Ericka Sizemore "is to show students a bit of German heritage." This is the only historically-based German community in Michigan. While there, students will be able to dine at a "authentic" German restaurant and shop at the many shoppes.

He's R2D2's pal

Computers are a fascinating world, and for Belleville High's Bob Wedel (above), that fascination is translated into the practical science of programs and robots. Getting the jump on the rest of the students, Robert has become efficient in computers to the point where he can create robots.

Robots roll into Belleville High

By CARL PROVEY

Robert Wedel is a student at Belleville High.

But, Bob, is a little "different" from the rest of the students. Why? Well, for beginners, Bob builds and programs his own robots.

On March 30, Bob brought his robot into school. He built the body, the two control panels, and robotic arm by himself. The key board was from his Commodore Vic 20 home computer.

After using his knowledge of electricity and computers, it took him eight months of planning and construction to complete his robot.

The actual construction took place in his shop which is in the back of his house. He also makes different parts for computers and sells them as an extra income.

Did dad help?

"My dad only helped me by offering suggestions and giving me the supplies that I needed," Wedel responded.

In the future, Wedel would like to design and program robots for N.A.S.A., but for now he will settle for being a student here at Belleville High School.

Senior splash

Life really begins .....at 55

Have you heard about the growing group of seniors who are gathering at the Belleville High School pool on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday mornings at 9 o'clock?

The first half hour is spent in water exercises under the direction of Eva Wortz and her helpers, Sandy Smith and Helen Memmo.

It is surprising how much easier it is to do exercises in the water. Besides the class being enjoyable, many have reported increased mobility and well-being since participating.

The next half hour is spent in a hot game of water polo, usually with the "caps" against the "no caps."

Watching this emcee you would not guess that these are senior citizens. If some prefer swimming to joining in the game, they go to the other end of the pool.

The third half hour is for free swimming, while the final period is a class in health and related activities. It covers many facets of healthful living that would be good for people of any age, such as enhancing your self image, good nutrition, hearing tests, cardiovascular resuscitation (CPR), and sharing interests and hobbies.

"We would like to encourage more people to come and join in the fun. There is no charge to persons who are 55 years or older for this class or any other of the classes listed below," a group spokesperson said.

Seeing the world as a handicapped person

Blind. Paralyzed. Legless. Armless. Speechless.

Think you could go through an hour of shop with one of these handicaps? Mr. Kiessel's 9th grade shop students are finding out what it is like.

While each student has a different disability, they work on taking an engine apart and putting it back together. Students select their handicap by drawing it out of a can at the beginning of class.

"It sure made life difficult," said Jeff Thorold.

Unable to talk, Vickie Seppala wrote notes to communicate and then talked all through her next hour.

Eric Treece, who worked without hands, added, "I hope it really never happens to me."

our opinions

People do care, ask LaSalle Rogers

When the news got out that LaSalle Rogers needed $100,000, there were many skeptics who said it could never be raised. Too many people are out of work. Who cares about some unknown kid in Inkster with a heart disease?

But, if anyone needed proof that people do care about people, no matter what condition the economy is in, then let them look to Inkster where literally hundreds of citizens rallied to raise the money so that this 19-year-old can undergo an operation that may save his life.

And it was the people at Wayne County General Hospital where LaSalle was confined who got the ball rolling. They started a fund drive that picked up volunteers, groups and organizations as it grew. They helped raise $80,000 of the approximately $100,000 needed for the heart transplant.

People do care.

They prove that, if you work together, there are no mountains that can't be moved. It is the suspicions, the bigotry and prejudices that create the gulfs of ice between people and races.

And it is times like these, when people work for a common good, that melt the hatred.

To the hundreds of citizens and residents who helped and contributed to give LaSalle a chance to live, take a bow.

To those who haven't, there is still time. The Inkster Youth Athletic Association will present a benefit basketball game that features the Continental Basketball Association champions, the "Spirits" against the Fred Smiley All-Stars at 3 p.m., Sun., April 17 at the Inkster Recreation Complex, 2025 Middlebelt, one mile north of Michigan Ave.

There is a $2 donation to view that game.

We hope to see you there.

Who would want school board job?

Why would anyone want the job?

If elected, you would be responsible for a multi-million dollar concern that usually runs a deficit each year. Most of the employees haven't gotten a raise in years and the tools they have been working with are almost ancient.

There is undeniably a lot of tension and headaches and you really aren't compensated. Maybe $25 per meeting, and at most, four meetings a month.

And the decisions you make will affect hundreds if not thousands of boys and girls, their futures, their outlook on life. Their parents are always breathing down your back, and you can never please them.

Your decisions precipitate controversy and, especially in this era, hold you up to ridicule by parents, teachers, students and even school administrators, some of whom you have the power to fire.

The above mentioned position is that of school board member. And, as our staff surveyed each school district we have discovered few candidates are even interested in the job nowadays.

Unfortunately, these are the times that schools need the best of candidates not the worst of them.

With deferred state aid payments and voters rejecting millage increases in an inflationary economic situation, schools must do without and the short range results are that kids have fewer options and programs and the long range outlook appears even bleaker.

There is a cost to a society that refuses to educate its children — it's obliteration. Schools are in peril, few will deny it and without education we have no society.

As one Army officer put it the other day, "I don't care if we allocate trillions for defense, if we don't produce the intelligence to man the sophisticated equipment, what good is it?"

"We have school dropouts in the military who are using weapons that cost thousands of dollars. They don't have the intelligence to do the job."

We need excellent teachers to teach our children, and learned administrators to guide our teachers and outstanding citizens to offer advice to our school administrations.

Take a good look at your school ballots on June 13, you'll find there aren't many choices. Yet we applaud those who have stepped forward to do their best.

But we wonder what history will have to say about us, a nation who buries athletes in gold and can't come up with the funds or the leaders to educate our children.

Carver homes should be demolished as planned

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Inkster Councilman Willie Johnson is adamant that federal monies earmarked for the demolition of homes in the Carver Subdivision be spent for the purpose they were applied for. Council has debated the issue and wishes to use some of the more than $1 million to lure businesses into the community. Here are Councilman Johnson's views on Carver and Council's options).

As a young man returning home from World War II, I thought that the then village of Inkster was an oasis of peace after my war-filled months in the South Pacific.

Inkster was then divided into two townships with Harrison Road as the dividing line between Nankin Township and Dearborn Township. Carver Homes were the best part of the city for minorities coming from many states to live here and work in the Kaiser and Fraser plant making war materials.

The houses were well kept with pretty green trees and lawns. There were paved streets and sidewalks throughout the Carver homes area. Throughout the years doctors, schoolteachers and thousands of school children have lived in the Carver homes.

Inkster was then a growing community and in the 50's Harrison Road, Carlyle, and other streets were paved.

Urban Renewal for the area was first discussed in 1956 when the then City Planner, Elon H. Mickels, drew a master plan for Inkster. The plan provided for eventual Urban renewal West of Middlebelt Road, formerly called by some, cardboard city. These houses were considered to be temporary and were demolished in the 60's. That area has been redeveloped since excluding one building.

Mickel's master plan also proposed urban renewal in the Carver Homes area East of Middlebelt, and these houses were permanent structures, and Michigan Avenue near Inkster Road there was a shopping area where shoes, clothing, and hardware could be bought. The shopping area was demolished so that the city could redevelop the area according to the Master plan.

It never happened.

In 1954 the federal government sold Carver Homes to private home owners. Some property owners who purchased these properties let them deteriorate through lack of painting, failure to keep up lawns, and maintenance of repairs. There was virtually no upkeep. Some driveways had several junk cars in them and numerous other instances of property neglect.

My neighbors and I got together and went to council meetings to find out what the city's intentions were for Carver Homes. Their questions fell on deaf ears because the then Mayor and Council would not reply to any questions regarding their intentions toward Carver Homes.

I had owned property and lost money in the urban renewal west of Middlebelt and felt somewhat skeptical about urban renewal east of Middlebelt, not wanting to lose money a second time.

I talked with Elon H. Mickels a few years earlier and had been shown city plans and maps for redevelopment of the total Carver Homes area. I did not want to see my house demolished without receiving fair property value. I organized the Carver Homes Association to fight against total clearance of the Carver Homes. The group grew larger and began to clean up the Carver Homes area. Nearly all of the junk cars were removed and people began to clean up their property.

After many months of meetings and hard work, the city hired Villicam-Leman to make specific recommendations concerning the future of the Carver Homes. After several months the Villicam-Leman Association recommended to the city total clearance of the Carver Homes.

At a council meeting a proposal that no building permits be issued for homes in the proposed urban renewal area was made. Albert H. Schlenker Jr., city attorney, objected to this proposal on grounds that some repairs were necessary to maintain health.

Meeting with the council hopeful of reaching a mutual understanding on the future of the Carver Homes area were some of the members of the Carver Homes Association as: Mrs. Jerylyn Shaw, Mrs. Mannie Saunders, Mrs. Lillian Hewitt, Mrs. Eddie Williams, Mrs. John Senfield, Mr. James Crudup, Mrs. Annabell Tillman, Mr. Paul Jones and Mrs. Abraham Shelton.

Failing to reach an agreement with City Hall, the association wrote to Mr. Robert Weaver, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development in Washington D.C. who later sent down two representatives from the Chicago Regional Office.

The city's final decision was to demolish all of the Carver Homes, although in stages.

In February 1972, I vowed not to fight urban renewal anymore. I advised all property owners in Carver Homes area to clean up, paint up, fix up, and maintain their property until the city purchases it. Those who do not keep their property up will be subject to have their property condemned and taken away without receiving any payment for it.

The city received federal monies since then to demolish homes in the Carver area although, only in a piecemeal fashion. Never enough to complete the job. This leaves the remainder of the citizens in Carver uncertain as to what their future holds.

As councilman in district one, and since becoming a councilman, I have always kept a watchful eye over how the funds for Carver Homes are spent. The application for filing for federal funds were filed somewhat different three years ago, than in previous years.

HUD now allows different area for which CDBC funds can be spent. Only a portion of the (See GUEST EDITORIAL, Page 12)

'April is cruelest month...'

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

In his calm and soft-spoken ways, Dr. William Bedell, the Superintendent of Romulus schools, accepted the message of the voters. They turned down his administration and the Board of Education's request for a 3-mill school tax increase that would help resurrect the schools.

An insignificant amount of voters — some 10 percent of the registered voters who represented some 24,000 residents in this community thumbed their noses at the schools.

In many ways, you can't blame them, after all look what Jimmy Blanchard and the elected representatives of this great State of Michigan did to us. They gave us a hefty Easter present by increasing our state taxes almost 40 percent.

And, of course, April 15 just breezed past us, digging out whatever else we had in our pockets.

April — isn't the month T.S. Eliot called the "cruelest month"? in his "Wasteland"?

April — and we thought it was the month Al Jolson made "immortal" with that song of his.

One can argue convincingly that this is a month of cruel jokes. Have we forgotten what nature did to us last Sunday? A storm that resembled something out of the past winters.

But back to Dr. Bedell.

A few weeks ago we received an unsigned note informing this desk that he's looking for another job. That he's had it with the city.

Well, who can blame him?

Also on last Monday's ballot was an urgent request from the Board of Education to the voters of the city that the high school has asbestos insulation in its ceilings and that there is a recommendation that it must be removed. The cost of the repairs and a new ceiling and roof to the high school would come to $800,000 so the administration asked to float bonds for the project.

Again the voters said "no".

And, I'm sure if there were space on the ballot to write a few kind words to the administration the more than 1,000 voters who rejected the proposal would have inserted something.

In this tug-of-war, Dr. Bedell remains "cool". One couldn't coax him to say anything "bad" about the people who constantly tie his hands behind his back.

"We realize that the schools are getting the backlash of what is happening out there," Dr. Bedell says. "It is a question of food or education and the people just don't have it. But, we also have an obligation to ask because there are children here that need an education and this administration is going to do its best to give them the best we can."

Unfortunately, Dr. Bedell and the Romulus schools are not unique in their problems.

If they were, someone would be suffering from an inferior complex.

The problems with today's schools transcend all city and township boundaries. There are only a handful of school districts, and none in the immediate area, that can boast fiscal sovereignty. And even those are swaying in-and-out of formulas.

School administrators and superintendents of schools may be walking around with flushed faces today, but there is no monastic isolation, and they know they must remain in the eyes of the public to continue the battle.

In his closing remarks Dr. Bedell noted: "We knew we were going to lose because there were only a handful of people that attended our meetings. If only people would attend our meetings and ask questions, they would understand that what we are saying is that we want their child to have a chance in life."

"Without a decent education, a child doesn't stand a chance. Believe me."

We do.

It's too bad that a lot of parents apparently don't.

Somes roses for Romulus teachers

EDITOR — Romulus teachers have had some "rocks" thrown at them lately but I would like to present them with some "roses".

My grandchildren lived with us, for four months, and attended Wick School.

We were very concerned about them going to three schools this year. Wick is the second school they have attended this year.

Ms. Wood found our grandson, who is in kindergarten, behind the other students at Wick. (Wick is advanced). With much effort, concern and work he was "brought up" with the other students, and is well prepared for first grade.

Mrs. Amthor, third grade, brought along my granddaughter in a very productive manner. She learned her "times tables" completely and her sentence structure was improved. She advanced beautifully. She is well prepared for fourth grade.

Ms. Wood and Ms. Amthor did an outstanding "job" of teaching.

Wick School was very "effective" in preparing their children for their next school in California.

Ban smoking in public places

EDITOR — Smokers stink! To anyone who does not smoke the smell of tobacco smoke or pot smoke is highly offensive whether they have a respiratory problem or not. My sympathy goes out to Mr. Donald E. Randolph because smoking does bother him more than other non-smokers. However, no one should have to put up with the fouled air from smokers in any public place or work place.

Even when smokers are not smoking their cloths and hair reek from the stench of their filthy habit. I do not believe that people should not be permitted to stink if that is what they want to do. However, I do believe that people should have the common decency to avoid offending others.

If a person had tangled with a skunk came in to a place of business stinking the joint up I am sure they would be ask to leave. If they did not leave and the police were called they would be arrested for creating a public nuisance. To a non-smoker a smoker smoking is no less offensive. Because so many people have been hyped into this health destroying habit it is more accepted then skunk musk on your person. The skunk smell will not hurt you!

Smoking is a habit chosen by persons of low intelligence than non-smokers. Because of the information available today a person has to have something wrong with their head to smoke. If in their smoking they are expressing a death wish there are a lot of more exciting ways of dying than early induced old age.

Therefore, we non-smokers have to do the best we can with the lower mentality of smokers. In elevators and other close places we have to have laws against smoking. Few smokers are smart enough to be considerate of non-smokers in such tight places. Because smoking is voluntary smokers should be segregated in all public places. Even to separating husbands and wives and parents and their children if the non-smokers wish it so.

Non-smokers should never have ash trays setting around their homes. If they permit smoking in their home at all. They will of course have to have ash trays to keep the dam fool smokers from burning the joint down. But make a point to hand them to the smoker when they light up. Just a little dig to add to the smokers discomfort.

Like other forms of suicide smoking should be illegal. But until we get a lot smarter people smoking should be banned in all public place

Scouts go on the offensive

EDITOR — As an experienced leader and Troop Services Director in the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, I would like to comment on the column by Mona Grigg appearing in your newspaper April 6-7.

Ms. Grigg should be aware that Brownies are not "... little girls who are waiting to be Girl Scouts". Girl Scouts are currently divided into four age levels: Brownie Girl Scouts, Junior Girl Scouts, Cadette Girl Scouts, and Senior Girl Scouts. The age level serving girls in the first through the third grades is Brownies.

Ms. Grigg aptly paraphrases the Girl Scout Program Emphases of learning about self and others through caring, sharing and doing. This philosophy is carried out through activities in many areas of interest. One activity chosen by many troops is participation in their Council's annual fund raising through the Girl Scout Cookie sale.

If Ms. Grigg had chosen to research her article by contacting her local Girl Scout Council, I am certain they could have informed her about the "relevance" of selling cookies in the "Girl Scout scheme of things".

In Huron Valley, a special Marketing Badge and Interest Patch are available to Junior and Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts.

Many girls choose to earn this award through participation in the cookie sale. Since this is the first year that Brownie Girl Scouts have sold cookies in our council, a badge has not yet been designed for this age level.

If a girl is interested in how the business world operates, she is encouraged to learn more about it through the badge requirements.

Through the cookie sale, interested girls learn the meaning of such terms as profit and net, as well as what qualities are involved in successful salesmanship.

JOYCE HAGELTHORN

uriously and leaped to her shoulder where it wrapped itself around her neck and purred happily.

"She's wonderful," my kid said. "but while I'm working, don't open the door into the hallway, or she will get upstairs and eat my fish. Don't you love pets, Mom?"

At this writing Alley is wrapped around my left ankle, purring away as if she has found a friend. And I am sitting here wondering how to get upstairs without opening the door, because somehow, whether I want it or not, I am also the keeper of the fish.

Has it only been a few weeks ago I wrote about this quiet house?

laxation and anxiety are incompatible."

Love it, love it, love it. And you want to know where I read about this book? In "Ms" magazine, the last bastion of "Let's get serious"! Does this mean they're finally going to "lighten up"? I hope so. How can you take seriously an effort even one you agree with, as I do this one, that can't even laugh at itself?

Oh, and speaking of laughing, I hope Lem Barney has a sense of humor. A few weeks ago, when I was talking about the Mel Farr, Superstar commercial, I said that Mel was flying around with Lem in only half a body. Turns out it wasn't Lem Barney, but Billy Sims, instead. (Now, I got that bit of information second hand, and if it wasn't Billy Sims, I hope he has a sense of humor, too.)

Whether or not a girl chooses to earn this, or any other, badge is a completely voluntary decision. It is simply an opportunity for girls to pursue or expand their areas of interest. A girl who participates in the cookie sale learns a lot about how to relate to other people in a courteous manner. She is encouraged to become more responsible by keeping accurate records of orders taken and money received.

Parents support girls in their efforts by providing the amount of help appropriate to the girl's age.

Participation in Huron Valley's cookie sale is completely voluntary.

In fact, a girl needs signed permission from her parents, who receive information about the sale beforehand, to participate. Girls in the troop benefit equally from the profits, whether or not they sell cookies. In my experience, no "big pep talk" is necessary before the sale.

Parents and girls, even customers, are enthusiastic.

Girl Scouts have traditionally raised the funds Ms. Grigg admits are necessary to any organization through the cookie sale. This has become more necessary today than ever before, due to cutbacks in other funding.

Huron Valley receives 77¢ from the sale of each box of cookies. This council profit is returned to the girls through services to troops, upkeep and maintenance of three camps, training for volunteers, and special programs.

Troop profit in our council is 25¢ per box, and is used to achieve goals the troop has set in advance. Our troop of 22 Junior Girl Scouts realized a profit of $432.50 from this year's sale, making possible an overnight trip to Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum.

Girl Scout troops in our area have been active in the community in many ways. One troop has adopted "grandparents", several have given service to the Pediatrics Ward at Wayne County General Hospital, troops from the Wayne-Westland area staged an International Bazaar at Metro Place Mall which had people coming into the mall to see what had filled the parking lot, and raised over $400 for the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund.

Very seldom are such activities covered by local newspapers, let alone metropolitan dailies.

I suppose it is a fact of life that "good news doesn't sell papers", but isn't it a shame that the actions of one misguided volunteer (which, by the way, were rectified before the story was even printed) should smudge the reputation of an organization which has successfully fostered the potential of thousands of girls?

Volunteers do their thing

EDITOR — April 22, is Girl Scout Leader's Day, when thousands of leaders nationwide will be recognized for their voluntary contributions to Girl Scouting.

These women and men play an important role in our society by encouraging girls to develop their talents, pursue their interests and serve their communities.

We have 67 Girl Scout troops with over 100 dedicated leaders in the communities of Wayne and Westland. Huron Valley Girl Scout Council has declared April 22 "A Green Ribbon Day." A Green Ribbon salute to all the Girl Scout leaders of Wayne and Westland who help girls find a new world in Girl Scouting.

Here is a letter from two of our volunteer leaders in Wayne-Westland.

Why Volunteer? Why use up your time when you could be having fun "doing your own thing"?

The rewards are more tangible than a sense of deep personal satisfaction or goodwill. They can be classified as enrichment; through close association with concerned and caring people; drawing on their expertise and experience; through training, developing skills in communication, administration, human relations, and other areas; through gaining a sense of independence, self confidence, and self worth; through developing a sense of community by being involved and nurturing close ties often missed in many paid jobs.

Despite the fact that more and more women work outside the home, volunteerism can still have a place as a very positive growing and learning experience in their lives. They will find it demanding, challenging, and most of all rewarding. Volunteerism is also new being recognized in the educational and professional worlds as a valuable part of one's resume.

We are often asked why we are still active in Girl Scouting even though it has been many years since our own daughters have been involved in Girl Scout activities. Our answer is that we have grown and continue to grow in confidence, in ability and sensitivity through our participation in Girl Scouting and other volunteer activities.

Volunteer? Try it! It may turn out to be "your own thing."

Don't close WCG hospital

EDITOR — On March 17, my granddaughter went into labor at 6½ months. Her doctor worked out of Annapolis Hospital and her mother took her there, however, she was informed that she would have to take her daughter to either the University of Michigan Hospital or to Wayne County General. Annapolis did not apparently have facilities for "Premies." When I was told I couldn't believe it. What are the people of Wayne County going to do if Wayne County Hospital is closed? The baby died despite the heroic efforts of the hospital personnel.

McDonald's article great

EDITOR — I want to express my gratitude for the article "Retarded Enjoy Cultivated Lifestyle" which appeared in The Associated Newspaper.

This is the kind of positive exposure that our citizens with mental retardation and concurrent disabilities are in need of in light of the resistance to group homes in the neighborhood. You did a nice job on writing the article.

Our current plans include the possible sale of our produce and beautifying of the Coil Center grounds. I would like to be able to contact you in August for a follow up story. Thank you again.

Tribute to special people

EDITOR — National Volunteer Week gives us at Wayne Living Center an opportunity to pay public tribute to a special group of people who unselfishly give their time to make our residents happy.

All too often, we get involved in what we're doing and forget to show our appreciation to our volunteers who work quietly behind the scenes. All year long, they help with residents activities and visit our residents on a one-to-one basis. They give extra companionship and love. To each resident, they are a special friend.

Now during National Volunteer Week, the residents and staff at Living Center would like to let our wonderful volunteers know how great they are.

We extend a warm thank-you to each of them.

It's great to be home

I'm home!

Remember a few weeks ago I wrote that my house was quiet...no children, pets! And I wrote how I missed the children...?

Someone up there must have heard me, for a few weeks before I returned home my youngest called in the middle of the afternoon, which, as anyone knows is the wrong time to call if one has any money troubles.

"Mother," she said. "I've done something I know you aren't going to be happy about."

Naturally, I have a dirty mind. One gets that way after one has raised six kids.

I shrieked. "Don't tell me. Don't tell me. I have enough grandchildren!"

"Oh, Mother," she said in that certain way that kids have of talking to their parents. "How can you think such a thing?"

"Easy," I murmured, but a vast wave of relief rolled over me nevertheless.

"Then what is it?" I asked. "Well," the pause grew longer and longer, and I found myself counting how much it was going to cost me to listen to her breathe.

"Well," she began again, "I quit school today."

Naturally, I did all of the things one is not supposed to do when a crisis hits one smack in the puss. I screamed. I shouted. I ranted and I raved. But it didn't do any good.

That is how come I knew there would be kids in my house when I got home. And I can't say it bothered me once I got used to the idea that this kid probably wasn't going to set the world on fire, since it was my ambition that wanted her to stay in school. Actually, it was good seeing her room filled with pictures and blue jeans on the floor, and posters and all the stuff that your kids fill their rooms with. That was all

I saw until the wee early hours of the morning when she came leaping in from a date, tearing up the stairs, hollering, "Mama, mama, I'm home. You're home," and she threw herself on the bed and hugged me.

"Get up," she cried. "I have something to show you," and she dragged me from my nice warm bed and into her room, where she lifted a few things from a table, and lo! beneath those things was an aquarium... with fish! Hundreds of fish darting around, some glowing, some undulating in slow motion, and some with one eye pasted to the outer rim of the aquarium.

"But this isn't all, Mom," she cried. "Come downstairs. Hurry, hurry" and down the stairs she pulled me.

"Alley," she shrieked. "Come here, Alley. Mama's home. And down from the shelf over the refrigerator, a long, furry, brown and white cat stretched lux-

Laughter is best medicine

Once, when I was still a young bride, a cousin of my husband's came to visit. He and his young bride, complete strangers to me and virtual strangers to my husband, came up from the hills of Arkansas to see for themselves what this place called "the North" was all about.

This was her first trip out of the hills. She had never been anywhere. And when I thought about what we could talk about, I decided that the two of us might as well have been inhabitants of two foreign countries for all we would have in common.

I was a nervous wreck. I wanted, for my husband's sake, to make a good impression. I wasn't even sure where Arkansas was.

Well, I stumbled through the introductions and sat down to make some small talk, and I discovered that they were as nervous as we were.

All of us just kind of sat there with stupid little grins on our faces, until finally the woman said, "Y'know, Ah been settin' here a'listenin' to y'all, and Ah cain't get over how y'all sound jest like all them 'uns on TV."

I wanted to say something... I tried to say something — but all I could do was howl. I laughed and laughed until I was nearly doubled over. I was mortified. I begged myself to stop laughing, but every time I thought about the way she said that, I started all over again.

Then, amazingly enough, she started laughing too. Then everyone in the room was laughing — and from then on, for four solid days, everything up to and including the time of day was funny.

Laughter, the great tension-breaker. Laughter is fun; laughter is necessary; laughter comes sometimes at the most inopportune moments. I can't tell you how many times I got kicked out of church by my tough teacher-minister for laughing, when I was a kid.

Now there's a new book out called "The Laughter Prescription" (by Dr. Laurence J. Peter and Bill Dana) that says laughter is essential for good health. It legitimizes, at last, what I've always said: I've always said, show me a person with laugh lines and I'll show you a healthy person.

"The Laughter Prescription" says, "Laughter produces beneficial physiological results. It exercises the lungs and stimulates the circulatory system. Hearty laughter causes full action of the diaphragm, the main muscle of respiration... (and) the whole cardiovascular system benefits from robust laughter because it increases the oxygen in the blood."

Laughter, the study says, can even reduce pain, and possibly even inflammation, by increasing production of endorphins — the body's natural painkillers.

And, the authors say, laughter is as good for stress as meditation or vigorous exercise. They say, "... as the laughter begins to subside, tension decreases. This decrease... has been measured as lasting up to 45 minutes. The greater the intensity of the laughter, the larger the decrease in tension and the more long-lasting the effect. Laughter's ability to cause the muscles to go suddenly limp is of great value in the treatment of stress... muscle re-

Free health screenings offered

Project Health-O-Rama comes to Annapolis Hospital in Wayne on April 27, and all area residents 18 and older are invited to participate in the free health screenings.

Health testing will be done from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the hospital, 33155 Annapolis Avenue. No appointment is necessary.

This is your chance to obtain $75 to $150 worth of health tests at no cost. Screenings include vision, hearing, glaucoma, blood pressure and pulmonary function testing. An optional blood panel of 21 tests is available at a cost of $7. All test results are confidential.

Also available will be health hazard appraisals, health history checks, counseling, referral and health information.

The emphasis of this and all Project Health-O-Rama screenings is on "wellness," according to Gilbert Skinner, Annapolis Hospital cardiopulmonary manager and project coordinator.

"Prevention and early detection of disease is the best approach to health care," Skinner said. "We encourage area residents to take responsibility for their own good health by participating in these simple, painless testing procedures."

Project Health-O-Rama is sponsored by WXYZ-TV, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan and the United Health Organization, in cooperation with dozens of health care providers such as Annapolis Hospital in the 7-county area of Southeastern Michigan. Throughout the month of April, screenings are being held at 85 locations.

The health tests are designed to detect disease in its first stages so that early treatment can prevent serious illness. The screening tests search for high blood pressure, diabetes, liver disease, sight loss, glaucoma, cancer, kidney disease, gout and many other conditions.

funds approved by HUD in the last three years can be used to demolish homes in the Carver area. Some of the money is being used as loans to homeowners to improve their property. In the neighborhood strategy area located south of Penn Central Railroad tracks to Annapolis and from Irene on the west to Inkster Road on the East. People in this area who qualify have received home improvement loans for the upgrading of their property. The city has also spent CDBC funds over the past two years for tree planting and street improving. Some of the money was spent in the North Carver Homes for street improving.

I feel the money could best serve the citizens of Inkster by giving loans to improve property and the upgrading of neighborhoods; allowing those unable to obtain low-interest loans from banks to make necessary improvements and prevent their property from falling into neglect due to lack of funds.

Many of the property owners still living in the Carver Homes are still waiting for the city to buy their property. When the 1982/83 CDBC funds are spent, there may not be any more monies forthcoming soon. It could be as many as ten or twenty years in another century and Carver still may not be demolished.

The proposed Johnson Square Townhouses by Mich-Con Development Corporation was approved by HUD but President Reagan dried up funds. The proposed one-hundred-fifty-six units were to be built on Tipton and Vicksburg Courts. I will be making a special effort to get this project out of HUD's pipeline and funded.

Peanutty Pork Chops

Celebrate America's heritage with a national favorite: the pork chop. Treasure Chest Pork Chops overflow with a stuffing of flavorful peanuts and tangy fruit. The result is a meal suited to the most elegant dinner table.

For your recipe file

Treasure chest pork chops

Juicy, thick pork chops are as American as baseball and drive-in movies. Delight your family and friends with the great American pork chop stuffed with another American favorite — peanuts.

Treasure Chest Pork Chops are filled with a stuffing that combines fruit for sweetness and chopped peanuts for crunch. They're served piping hot from the oven, topped with a red wine sauce for hearty flavor. With the nutritional bonus of peanuts you can enjoy the wealthy taste of Americana.

Another chapter of our American food heritage can be found in this recipe for Party Peanut Slaw. The simple addition of peanuts gives this popular side dish a distinctive accent. The peanut butter used in the dressing provides a richer, creamier texture as well as supplying extra nutrition.

Treasure Chest Pork Chops

¾ cup raisin bread crumbs
½ cup orange sections
½ cup chopped salted cocktail peanuts
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 teaspoon marjoram
4 center cut pork chops (1 ½-inches thick) with pocket for stuffing
2 tablespoons butter
1 clove garlic, minced
1 cup red wine

Combine bread crumbs, orange sections, peanuts, melted butter and marjoram; mix well. Stuff into pockets of pork chops securing with toothpicks. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in Dutch oven. Add garlic and chops. Brown chops on both sides. Add wine; cover and cook in a 350°F. oven for 1 hour. Remove chops; keep warm. Bring sauce to a boil. Continue boiling until only ½ cup sauce remains. Season with salt and pepper. Pour sauce over chops. Garnish with chopped parsley, as desired. Makes 4 servings.

Party Peanut Slaw

3 cups shredded cabbage
1 cup grated carrot
1 cup chopped apple
½ cup raisins
½ cup creamy peanut butter
½ cup mayonnaise
3 tablespoons cider vinegar
2 tablespoons orange juice
½ cup coarsely chopped unsalted peanuts

In a large bowl, combine cabbage, carrot, apple and raisins. In a small bowl, stir together peanut butter, mayonnaise, vinegar and orange juice until smooth. Add dressing to cabbage mixture and mix well. Stir in peanuts. Slaw should be moist. Makes 4 cups.

Luncheon seminar to highlight Professional Secretaries Week

Huron Valley Chapter of Professional Secretaries International has announced plans for Professional Secretaries Week, April 24-30. Professional Secretaries International is the originator and sole sponsor of Professional Secretaries Week since its beginning in 1952.

Lili Kivisto, CPS, President of Huron Valley Chapter said the following activities have been scheduled:

A luncheon seminar for managers and secretaries will be held

April 27 from 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. at McMullen's Restaurant, Briarwood Hilton, Ann Arbor.

Registration will start at 11 a.m., at 11:45 a.m. "Welcome to PSI", by Lili Kivisto, CPS, President, Huron Valley Chapter and "HVC Secretary of the Year" by Joyce Scott, Past-President and 1982 HVC Secretary of the year (SOTY). Lunch will follow with flowers compliments of McMullen's Restaurant.

At 12:30 p.m., Thomas Curran, vice-president Personnel ADP Network Services, and Katherine Erdman, vice-president Corporate Communications Hoover Universal, Inc., will present "Mastering the Business Network".

Huron Valley Chapter of Professional Secretaries International believes strongly that Secretaries Day can best be celebrated by attending an educational seminar.

Jonathan Carey McClory

The birth of their first child, a baby boy, is announced by Jon and Faith McClory of Northville. The new heir bowed in at 9:54 a.m. April 9 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Titled "Jonathan Carey", the infant's weight was recorded at 8 lbs.-3 ozs. and his length at 20 inches.

The son of the former Faith Pierman, he is the grandson of Mrs. Helen Pierman of Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. John McClory of Sturgis.

Jaime Lynn Elgas

Jaime Lynn is the name chosen by Randy and Carole Elgas of 5078 Bosun's Way, Ypsilanti, for their new daughter who was born April 6.

Making her debut at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, the 6 lb.-14 oz. newcomer is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kalasz of Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Elgas of Bradford, Pa.

VB Garden Club sees slides of Asia

The Van Buren Garden Club had its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Ada Posthumus. Henry Atyeo presented an interesting slide program of China, Japan and India beginning with Washington, D.C. at cherry blossom time.

The Japanese, many years ago, sent the seedling cherry trees to Washington. They grew, blossomed and multiplied and now there are some 640 beautiful pink and white blooming trees around the tidal basin and lagoon, and some 2,000 cherry trees in the Washington vicinity.

Mr. Atyeo's pictures of Tokyo showed Japanese hotels which are built with gardens in their center. The hotels give excellent service and excellent food, he said.

There are 12,000 Shinto shrines in Japan and some of their architecture is of handcarved wood.

Beautiful pictures of the Himalaya Mountains of India which were taken from the airplane showed the vast expanse, height and rugged snow covered awesomeness of the mountains, the highest of which is Mt. Everest.

Pictures of the Taj Mahal, magnificent white marble mausoleum in Agra, India were shown taken by moonlight, sunlight and the brilliance of day, strikingly beautiful in each light.

Mr. Atyeo closed the program by passing his lovely miniature model of the Taj Mahal for all to see, hold and enjoy.

potpourri

By Lee Smith
Suburban Living Editor

Anorexia and herpes may be this decade's "biggies" with the medical profession but in the meantime, they are completely ignoring the fourayem frazzles.

Four A.M. — if there's a worse time of the day, I've yet to find it. Four in the morning has to be the eeriest part of the day — really spooky — since nothing is alive or moving at that hour (at least when one lives off the beaten path, on the fringe of suburbia with yawning acres of fields stretching north and eastward.)

That's the hour this bod chooses to communicate with the world. When that invisible hand shakes me from an already sketchy slumber, I automatically moan because (without even looking at the lighted digital) I know it's in the vicinity of four — 3:42 — 3:50 — 3:57 being predictable wake-up times.

No one is crazy about rolling out of a warm, cozy bed at a normal hour let alone when a silent house's only company is the intermittent hum of the 'fridge.

It's not at all pleasant to be up and about at that pre-dawn setting but the alternative is wearing out the bed linens tossing and turning or the pillows with all the activities taking place in the brain. Everything that's happened in the past six months goes racing through the skull chased by everything I'm expecting to accomplish in the next half year.

Depending on how awake I am sets the mood for my time-killing activities. If I feel there's the slightest chance of getting droopy-eyed via a book, I settle into a cooled-down family room with both draperies drawn, feet shod in socks and slippers, shoulders draped in an afghan and sometimes a cup of warm milk (usually out of desperation since I'm not keen on moo juice, let alone at that temperature.) If I'm lucky, the printed word will do the trick after an hour or so but most often it fails to inject lead into the eyelids (contrary to when I'm attempting to read in early evening and keep dozing off.)

When literature strikes out and the mind is at an up-and-at-'em tempo, the monthly accounts get posted, drawers cleaned, letters written, dishwashers emptied and, on occasion, something even gets baked.

Four Ay-Em is also the loneliest hour — the world seems to have ceased its revolution, the neighborhood appears to have been written into the Legend of Sleepy Hollow, the coals in the fireplace have turned to ash, the moon and clouds take on a supernatural cast and the utter quiet becomes downright frightening. If anyone ever knocked on my door at those moments I'd be in orbit with a few satellites.

Because of the isolated feeling, the nighttime settings on the thermostat and the awful need for sleep, I usually drop back into bed after a couple hours despite a lack of drowsiness. And you know what happens without my telling, don't you? Uh-huh — I'm still awake! But — just let BG's alarm sound at 6:30, as the sun is peaking over the horizon, and I fall soundly asleep.

Then the weird dreams begin, one silly, exhausting sketch after another, and before I've gotten more than a few z-z-z's in, it's rise-and-shine time! And, fellow insomniacs, I might be rising (mightily reluctantly) but you can bet your fist-pounded pillow I'm not shining! I fall out but am like a drugged person for too long after.

SCHOOL DAZE

The teacher thought for a moment, then came up with an idea to discourage clock watching. She stuck a sign over the clock reading: "Time Will Pass — Will You?"

A FEW "FIRSTS" FACTS

- The first paper money in America was issued by colonists in Massachusetts in 1690.
- The first balloon flight occurred in 1792 when Jacques and Joseph Montgolfier of Annonay, France sent up a small smoke-filled balloon.
- The first All-American Soap Box Derby was run in Dayton, Ohio in 1934.
- The first woman's college-level school was founded in 1821 in Troy, N.Y. by Emma Willard. It was known as Troy Female Seminary.
- The first Arbor Day celebration was held on April 10, 1872 in Nebraska.

- The first United States coins, legend has it, were made from Martha Washington's silverware.
- When the first escalator was installed in Harrod's Department Store in London, brandy was served to passengers who felt faint.

IS THAT SO?

Having just returned from a book sale at Briarwood, I couldn't help but use a piece I clipped some time ago from Sidney Harris' column in the Big City daily.

Since cookbooks — lots of 'em — were among the selections offered at lowered costs, one seemingly better than the other, his remarks seem appropos.

Now, according to S.H., every single working day of the year a cookbook is published in the U.S. It leads one to wonder, he says, who buys them, who reads them and how the level of cooking in our country can remain so lamentably low. (Speak for yourself, Sid!)

FROM THE TIPSTER

DIET TIP — Stir ½ teaspoon each dry mustard and Worcestershire sauce into a cup of plain yogurt as a topping for hamburgers or lean beef.

EGG TIP — Next time you consider making deviled eggs, mix the yolks with sour cream rather than mayo for a different taste.

CAR BUYING TIP — Thinking of buying a used car? One of the important things to check for besides the usual mileage, tire condition and "extras" is signs of rust. Examine the body carefully for the worst of all culprits and also look at the underside (frame, cross-member.)

Be alert for signs of repainting and use of body putty to disguise areas where rust has already done its damage. If it's a station wagon, take out the spare tire and examine the tire well. Also lift the mat on the floor in the third seat area and check for rust and metal weakness.

In other cars, lift the mat in the trunk. Also, pick up the carpeting in the passenger area and be suspicious of musty odors. Before buying, drive the vehicle through a car wash to check for leaks.

THE BOTTOM LINE: All you have to do is hide your feelings and folks will think you're good-natured.

Mrs. Ida Stillwagon (front, center) was the surprised guest of honor at a party marking her 86th birthday March 26. The mother of nine, grandmother of 27 and great-grandmother of 31, the octogenarian has lived in Romulus for some 47 years. The celebration at the Romulus VFW Hall was hosted by the honoree's grandchildren, Earl, Louise, Elmer and Gigi Champagne and Joe and Paula Smith and great-grandchildren, Ken, Joe and Steven Smith. Among those attending the gala potluck dinner was Romulus Mayor William Oakley (back, center) and Mrs. Stillwagon's family: Mona La Lone and Ida Mae Langdeau (flanking their mother) and also Tom Stillwagon (from left, back row), Blanche Mitton, Dick Stillwagon and Art Stillwagon.

WOTM notes

The Belleville Chapter Women of the Moose enrolled one new member, Diane Gallagher, sponsored by Barbara Glazier, at the April 11 meeting. The group voiced its appreciation to Shirley McGriff for the fashion show she had arranged at the Moose Home.

Star Recorder held its Chapter Night April 10 with other Chapters exemplifying the ritual.

The mid-year Conference and Academy of Friendship sessions will be held in Ann Arbor April 22-24. The next business meeting for the WOTM will be April 25 at the Moose Home.

In the community

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

Kim Alspaugh of North Shore Drive is home on spring break from Leslie College in Cambridge, Mass. with her roommate, Mary Lou Wales of Abington, Mass. They were greeted at Cleveland Hopkins Airport by Kim's sister, Brenda, and friends, Denise and Roberta Welt.

Members and advisors of Belleville Assembly No. 49, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, attended a Grand Reception and Majority Service at Samaria Assembly April 9. Receiving their majorities were Belleville residents Gloria Girard, a Past Worthy Advisor of Belleville, and Mrs. Miller, a former member of Dearborn Rainbow, whose daughters will become Belleville Rainbow Girls this month. Afterwards the group went onto Toledo for a shopping trip.

Members of Belleville Chapter, Order of DeMolay, visited their brother chapter, Architect Chapter, in Dearborn April 11.

Weekend guests of the Robert Welt family were Patty, Janet and Mary Raymond of Traverse City and Donna Oram of Cadillac.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McDougal were Easter weekend guests of Jim and Loretta Wooters and Larry and Bethel Greene of Redkey, Ind.

The Past Matrons of Belleville Chapter No. 73, OES, held their annual luncheon and election of officers April 7 at Bonanza Restaurant in Lakewood Shopping Mall.

Florence McKelvey was named president; Ruby Clayton, vice-president; Katherine Spring, secretary, and Frances Cothorn, treasurer. Fifteen Past Matrons and one guest were present for the occasion.

Richard and Nancy Carey spent Easter vacation in Florida, their stay including a visit to EPCOT Center in Orlando.

Sue Featheringill and her daughters, Amy and Sara, spent Easter with relatives, the Williams family, in Maumee, O.

Extension Homemakers scholarships available

Each year the Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers presents one or two scholarships to upper division students in the Michigan State University College of Human Ecology, preferably a junior or senior. Approximately $500 is available.

This is National Library Week

Overdue book fines are waived.

National Library Week 1983 (April 17 - 23) is being observed at the Belleville Library with a week-long "overdue fines amnesty".

Bring in long overdue books that you've been hiding in the closet because you can't afford to pay late charges. No matter how long overdue, you'll be forgiven if they're returned during National Library Week. Bring your books to the desk when the library is open or use the drop box near the front door after hours.

The library will extend this amnesty to all books overdue from the Fred C. Fischer (Belleville) Library. Books from other libraries may be returned, but the library will not include them in this program.

While at the library this week, browse through the new books, the 66 different magazines, the newly-updated pamphlet file and the business reference section. Pick up a National Library Week bookmark and "Look to Your Library" this week and every week.

At Study Club

SAFE House program explained

"Battered Women and Children" was the subject at the April meeting of the Belleville Woman's Study Club which convened in the lounge of the First United Methodist Church.

After a brief business session chaired by Marguerite Emerson, president, the guest speaker, Linda Clayton, was introduced by Wilma Petrasky whose committee was comprised of Sye Chen and Marjorie Jahr.

A parttime teacher with the Van Buren Public Schools, Miss Clayton is also a volunteer member of the board of directors of Domestic Violence Project, Inc., based in Washtenaw County.

She presented a film "Behind Closed Doors" which dealt with domestic violence and the work of SAFE House, (Shelter Available for Emergencies) for battered women and their children.

Since 1978, when the shelter was opened, 827 women and 1,401 children have been helped, some staying as long as 30 days. SAFE House alone receives 100 crisis calls each month from victims of family violence. The hot-line number is 313-995-5444 for those in need.

Domestic Violence, Inc. is a non-profit organization which attempts to deal with the effects of violence on parents and children and to give support to the entire family.

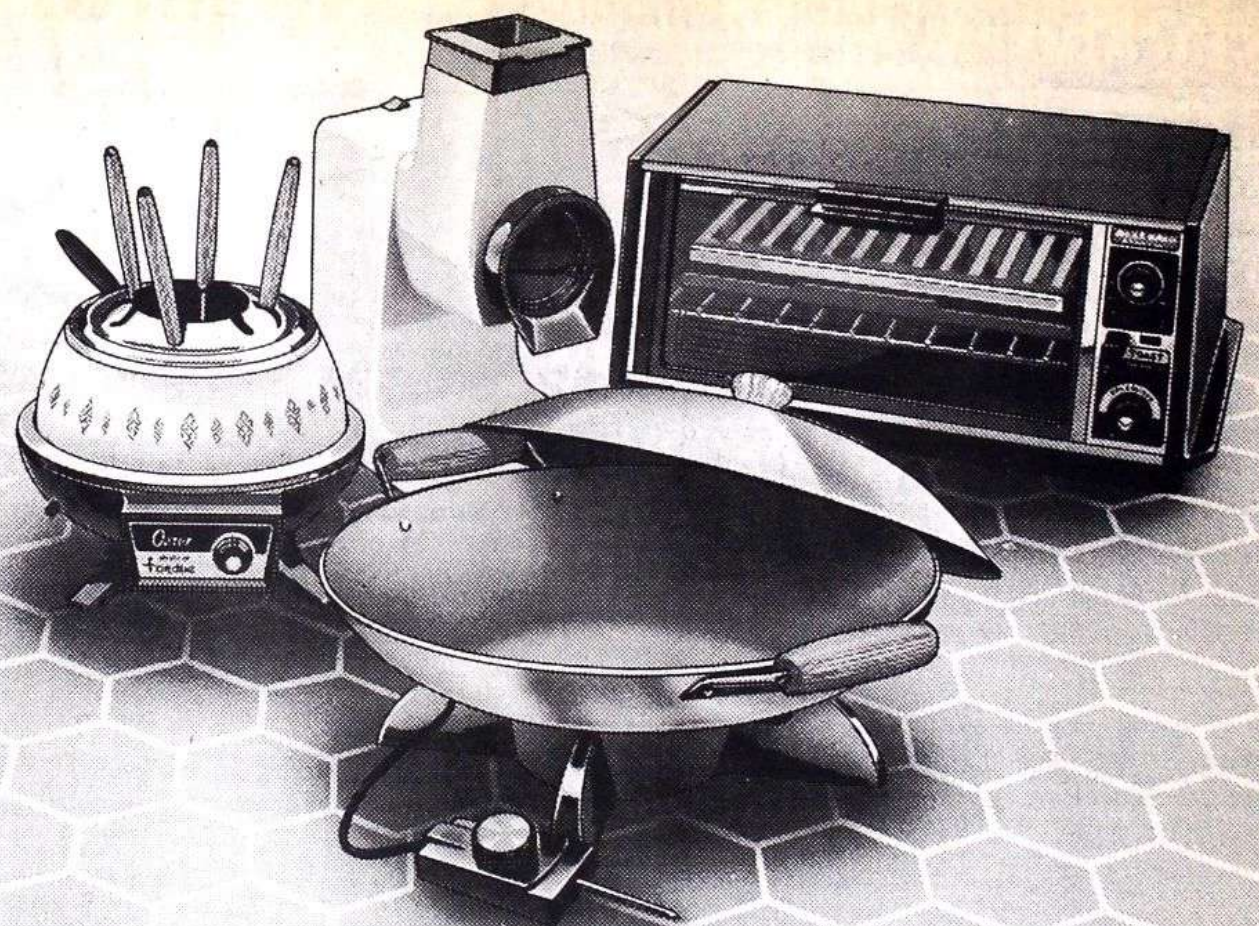

Another local resident, Darryl Mickens, who is affiliated with Girlstown, a local home for girls, is also a volunteer at SAFE House.

Following a discussion period, refreshments were served by Avis White and Violet Bird.

Denise Marie Bixler of Westland has been awarded the 1983 Joyce Schultheiss Memorial Scholarship for her theatrical talents.

Bixler, a senior at John Glenn High School, won the scholarship in a statewide competition sponsored by the Community Theatre Association of Michigan. For her audition she played the guitar and sang Admission is $5 and tickets may be reserved by calling 522-1526 between 10 a.m. and 10 p.m.

"Ego and the Hawk," followed by dramatic readings from Elmer Rice's "Dream Girl" and Jean Paul Sartre's "No Exit" and a vocal rendition of "Poor Wandering One" from the Pirates of Penzance.

In addition to performing in various theatrical productions, Bixler was named Wayne-Westland "Junior Miss" earlier this year and finished as the runner-up in the Michigan Junior Miss contest. She was sponsored in the scholarship competition by the Wayne Westland Civic Theatre Spotlight Players.

Bixler will receive $1500 over a period of four years for her college education from the scholarship fund. She has narrowed her college choices to Eastern Michigan University, the University of Michigan and Northwestern University.

The late Joyce Schultheiss was a former president of the Community Theatre Association.

A focus on 3 lives

The Spotlight Players' presentation of "Vanities" takes a close look at three women from their senior year in high school through the next 12 years of their lives. Curtain time for the production is 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday at the John Glenn High School Auditorium on Marquette in Westland. Cast in the leading roles are Carolyn Handler (left), Mary Jo Cobello and Gail Susan Mack. Michael W. Swain of Canton directs the play with assistance from John Eastman. Jeff James of Wayne is the producer. Tickets are priced at $4 for adults and $3 for senior citizens and students.

John Glenn Orchestra to perform India music

India's popular music will be presented in symphonic form for the first time locally by the John Glenn High School Symphony Orchestra as it performs India Nite-'83" at 3 p.m. Sunday in the school's auditorium at 36105 Marquette in Westland.

The 60-piece orchestra will be accompanied by vocal soloists Alex Mapleton and Vidya Chandrasek-har. Traditional Indian instruments played by musicians from India is designed to add authentic Indian sound to the symphony.

Colorful dances of India will be performed by the Vidyanjali of Michigan group during the second half of the show. Sudha Chanrasekhar will serve as choreographer with Norman Logan as music director and conductor.

One of the dances offered was frequently used by the late Mahatma Gandhi during his popular prayer meetings.

Tickets, priced at $5 for donors and $10 for patrons, will be available at the door or may be purchased from various India business establishments. The show is sponsored by East West Music, Inc., a local non-profit organization promoting ethnic music.

Flower tours set

The Sixth Annual Wildflower Walk in the nature trails of the Livonia Bicentennial Park on Seven Mile at Wayne Road has been expanded from one to a series of four walks this year; scheduled from 1 to 3 p.m. on April 24, May 1, May 8 and May 15.

The activity is sponsored annually by the Schoolcraft College Biology Department and is open to the public without charge.

The tours are conducted by faculty members and persons who have completed a wildflower class at Schoolcraft. Last year more than 600 people attended the tours.

Park nature trails feature more than 35 different species of wildflowers, which are expected to be in full bloom and color during the period of April 24 to May 15.

Organizations of 25 or more should call Roger Sutherland at 591-6400, ext. 508 to arrange an appropriate time to tour as a group.

'Johnny Be Good'

The New Johnny Thunders
"Too Much Junkie Business" (ROIR Cassette)

This cassette-only release from Reach Out International Records — which only markets tapes — is the first new Johnny Thunders material to be released in about five years. There have been some unauthorized live LPs released through the years, but nothing from the studio until now.

For those who don't know, Johnny Thunders was an original member of that primal punk-before-there-was-a-name-for-it band, the New York Dolls. It was Johnny's crazed guitar riffs and David Johanson's Bronx accented vocals that helped shape the New York music scene in the early seventies. Since that band's break-up, Thunders' has recorded one of the best LOUD rock'n'roll LPs of all time, the Heartbreakers' "L.A.M.F.," as well as a very underrated solo album, titled "So Alone."

"Well," you're probably saying, "if he's so good, how come I've never heard of him?" The answer to that one is the title of the tape. Thunders' has never hidden his well-documented habit, and he hasn't been too successful in the past at kicking it either. But now it seems he's back on the right track and off of the wrong ones. He claims to be "clean" now, and the fact that he had the ambition to be involved in all aspects of this project — documentation, selection of photographs and core art, approval of the final mix as well as being the co-producer — definitely implies it is so.

The material consists of both live and studio cuts, with a running commentary between songs by Johnny. The studio numbers, the best of which are "In Cold Blood" and a haunting "how ya doin'" to the late Sid Vicious called "Sad Vacation," where produced by Rolling Stones crony Jimmy Miller, who produced "Beggars Banquet" and "Let It Bleed" among others.

The only evidence of Thunders' partnership with ex-MC-5 guitarist Wayne Kramer is a tune on side two called "King Of The Gypsies." I remember the Detroit-based band as being much better than this number implies.

Of the live cuts, the best are the title tune (a Bo Diddley-Chuck Berry-ish tune based on Berry's "Too Much Monkey Business"), "Diary Of a Lover," the ballad (and previously unreleased) title song from Thunders' solo LP, "So Alone," and of particular interest to old Dolls diehards there's Johnny's version of the band's classic "Jet Boy." The tape's footstomper is a ripping version of the golden oldie "Great Big Kiss," which is extremely loose, but, as anyone who's ever seen him live in concert, that's Johnny.

You can get this 14 song tape at most record stores that carry new music and imports, or it can be ordered directly from ROIR by mail. Send $8 plus $1.25 for postage to ROIR Cassettes, Suite 214, 611 Broadway, N.Y.C., NY 10012.

STILL NO ANNUAL FEE!

with any WSB checking or Money Maker Plus account

Almost every bank now charges an annual membership fee to its credit card customers. It's common to pay $10, $15, $20, or even more for Visa and MasterCard service. But there's still an alternative.

GOOD NEWS

At Wyandotte Savings Bank, there's still no annual fee for MasterCard and Visa cardholders who also have a WSB checking or Money Maker Plus account. Which means you can save up to $20 or more per card per year!

OPEN A WSB CHECKING ACCOUNT AND SAVE

Saving money is as easy as transferring your credit cards from your present bank and starting a WSB checking account. You may choose from a wide selection to fit any need, including:

- Check 'N Earn, the checking account that pays you interest.
- Super Now, the new high interest account with unlimited checking privileges.
- Personal Check Plan, the perfect account for people who write only a few checks per month.

- Diamond Cheque, the service-charge-free account for people who can conveniently maintain a modest monthly balance.
- Senior Citizen Checking, the free checking account for anyone over age 65, or who is receiving a Social Security retirement benefit.
- Money Maker Plus, the new high-interest money market account, featuring easy access and limited checking privileges.

All your accounts are insured by the FDIC. And if you receive a regular government check, or any other regular check payment, you can get free Direct Deposit Service at WSB.

No annual fee on credit cards, plus a full range of money-saving checking accounts. Two more reasons why you should do all of your banking at Wyandotte Savings Bank, where we've been helping the people of the Downriver area for over a century.

An era ends at Belleville High

TOM NIEMI

Belleville High sustained its greatest basketball setback after the regular season.

It was learned that, in a surprise move, veteran coach Tom Niemi has resigned as head coach.

"I just thought it was time for a change," Niemi said. "I have enjoyed coaching and I feel that I have accomplished much here. We have turned the program around, and now I'm looking for other challenges."

Niemi has coached the Tiger cage machine for the past 10 years, coming to Belleville High from Livonia Franklin. His teams have captured three Western Wayne Christmas Basketball Tournaments and also won the final Suburban 8 Conference championship last month.

During the 1982-83 campaign the Tigers compiled an over-all 14-6 won-lost record. Niemi's best year was in 1976 when his team finished second to Plymouth Salem in the conference and won a district crown, finishing with an 18-5 record.

During his decade as Belle-ville's head coach, Niemi amassed a 341-127 won-lost record over a 20-year span, and was named twice as the Associated Newspapers' "Coach of the Year."

"I know that I will miss coaching," Niemi added, "but I also know that I leave a lot of pleasant and rewarding memories behind. I have always been proud of the kids and the teams that I've coached. The school and the community have been good to me."

Niemi didn't rule out coaching on the high school level in the nearest future.

"I love the sport too much to leave it," he said. "I'm just looking at what my options are at present."

Spartans' Smith sets record mile pace

Dan Smith is quickly and undisputedly establishing himself as one of the greatest milers in Cherry Hill's long history.

The 5-11, 155-pound senior definitely is the finest miler on the high school scene today. Smith has put together the credentials to support that statement.

At the University of Michigan indoor championships, Smith earned a gold medal when he toured the mile in 4:24, then he traveled to the Eastern Michigan University Huron Relays where he became the first high school runner to win the Harold Silverston Award when he was clocked in 4:20 for the 1,600 meters.

Smith's next stop was the Michigan State University Spartan Relays where he again set a record in winning the mile in 4:21.

Last week, coach Dick Gordon's Spartans entered the prestigious Mansfield Relays where Smith anchored the winning medley relay. He and his teammates — Ed Mulrooney, Steve Sheahan and Louis Smith fought 30 degrees temperatures and a 25-an hour arctic wind to post a 7:47 to capture a gold medal.

In doing so, the Spartan medley team became the first in Cherry Hill history to place at the Ohio meet.

Smith went on to finish sixth in the 1,500 meter run with a 4:04 effort. It is interesting to note that the five runners who placed ahead of him, four were 20-year-old Canadian athletes and the fifth was the Triple A Ohio state champ.

Smith was the first Michigan athlete to cross the finish line in all classes.

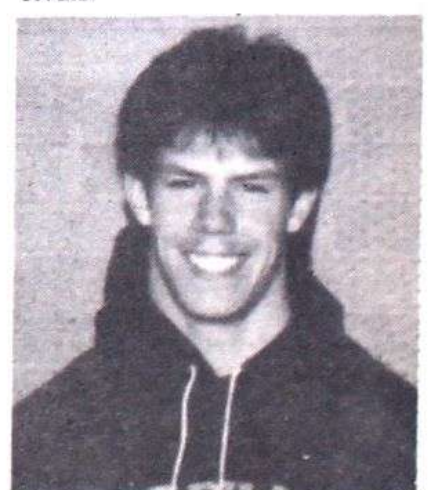

It is his 4:21 mark that remains the best indoor mile performance in the state thus far this year.

"Dan definitely has established himself as the premier miler in the state this year," said Coach Gordon, "and he has a lot of people watching him."

Also at Mansfield, Sheahan, who had won the Huron Relays in the long jump with a 22 feet, 4 1/2 inch leap and set a new MSU record with a leap of 22 feet, 11 inch finished with a medal when he soared 22 feet, 5 to wind up in sixth place.

"We have basically a senior team," Gordon noted, "and thus far it has been a very rewarding year. As the weather improves, I expect our performances also will."

Cherry Hill posted another first last week as the Spartans launched the 1983 dual meet season with a 70-62 victory over neighboring Westland John Glenn. It was the first time in the history of the competitions that the Spartans had ever beaten their out-of-conference rivals.

Would you believe he bowled 2 300 games

Ken McNabb accomplished in one night what some bowlers spent a lifetime striving for — a perfect 300 game — and he did the incredible feat not once, but twice in one series.

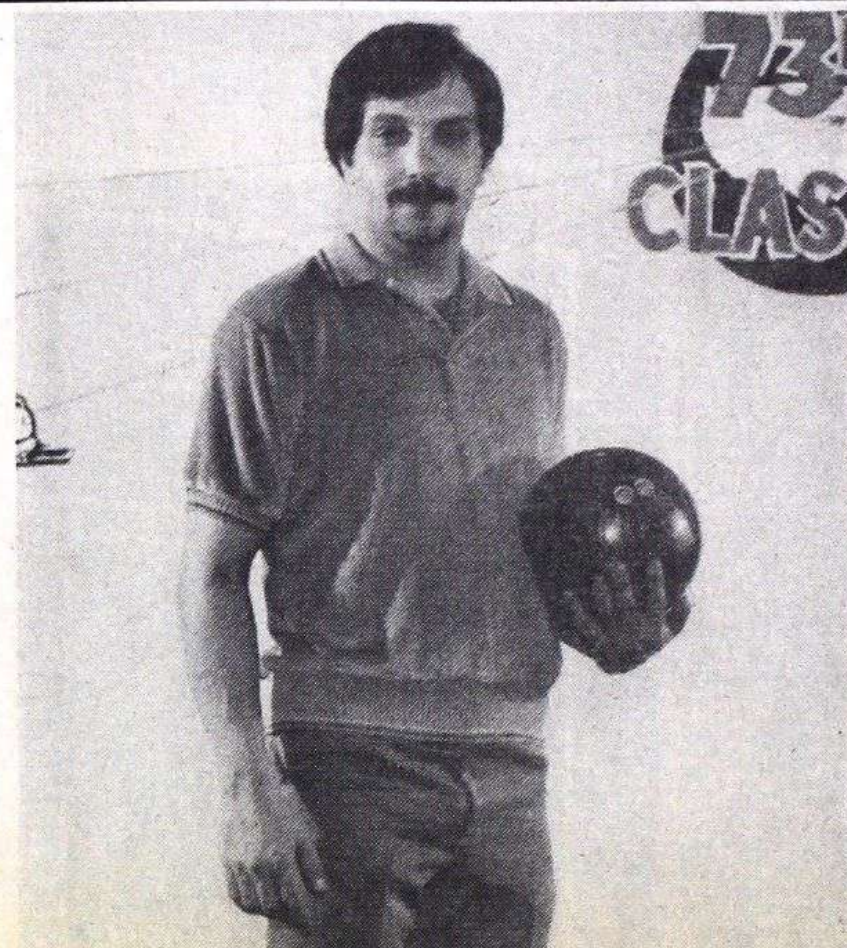

The 26-year-old Westland bowler fired two consecutive 300 games at Westland Bowl Friday night, competing in the Friday Night Mixed Classic.

"It feels great! Fantastic!" said McNabb who has been bowling since he was 8-years-old. "I've never bowled a 300 in my life, then I get two of them. I can't believe it."

After news got around that McNabb had put together 12 consecutive strikes and was well on his way toward a second perfect game, the crowds at Westland Bowl began to gather around to witness the historic occasion. When he finally connected and put away his 24th strike, there was a great yell and shriek at the lanes.

Never in the 19-year history of Westland Bowl had a bowler carded back-to-back 300 games. "Oh, we have had lots of 300s, but never two in a row," an employee said.

McNabb quickly put an end to his dream of accomplishing the impossible. He began his third game by leaving the 10 pin. He finished the evening by giving his team, the Engraving Specialists, an 816 series. That is the highest series registered this year and the second highest ever in West-

He's perfect

Although he has bowled since he was 8-years-old, Westlander Ken McNabb (above) found the perfect 300 game elusive, that is, until last Friday when the 26-year-old Aztec Lanes employee struck for 24 consecutive strikes at Westland Bowl to card not one but two perfect games. McNabb finished with a 816 series, the second highest all-time series in Westland bowling history.

McNabb said he didn't feel the pressure because he was deep in concentration.

"The ball that got to me, however," McNabb admitted, "was the 11th in the first game. I crossed over and carried over for a 'Brooklyn,' but then threw the next one in the pocket for a strike — and that relieved a lot of pressure."

Super coach, super guy

The return of Charley Lau

By ALAN K. WALTZ, SR.
(ANP Special Writer)

It was back in the summer of 1949 and the American Legion season was just about over in Wayne when our coach Connie Schlaufman called a team meeting after practice. "Boys," he announced, "Charley has been chosen to play in the Hearst All-Star game at the polo grounds next week."

"And I was wondering if we could hold a special practice for him and just shag balls for about two or three hours so he can get in some extra cuts before going to New York."

Of course, we all agreed that was a great idea and two days later we had that special practice for "Buster."

He hit and hit and hit til his hands were so sore he could hardly swing the bat. Mr. Schlaufman pitched almost the entire practice and I believe he was somewhere around 50 years old; a former minor league catcher. He was a big man with a wide grin on his face every time "his kids" came out to practice.

Never did I see him frown except when we questioned his judgment which wasn't often. His team once lost a close game 1-0 to a team from Detroit and he apologized in front of the whole team for a mental error he thought he made.

Quite a guy and he deserves a special place in the American Legion Coaches Hall of Fame (if there is such a thing).

But back to Romulus-raised Charley Lau. He went to the Hearst game and got two hits, one a home run in the seats. The next year the Tigers signed him to a contract and sent him to Jamestown, New York, a class "D" Tiger farm team.

As he progressed he improved and in 1955, the Tigers decided to take a close look at him as he hit 18 home runs at Durham, North Carolina.

Also, he was impressive at handling pop-ups and low pitches, a product of Coach Schlaufman's astute handling during his fledgling years of American Legion ball.

As it turned out, he made the big leagues a couple years later with Detroit and spent a long career with Detroit and later Baltimore.

This past weekend the Chicago White Sox came to town to do battle with our Tigers and guess who is the batting coach of the Sox... Mr. Lau.

Standing in back of the batting cage while the Chicago team took batting practice, Charley watches every move, not missing a trick. Glancing around once in a while (is he looking for his old buddies from our Legion team?) but ever watching once the ball leaves the pitcher's hands. He watches them all, from the fourth or fifth infielder to the third string catcher or the last hitter on the roster.

Now Sparky I must confess I'm worried. What if we win the East and play Chicago in the West for the title. Look out. Chicago won't lose because of lack of hitting and if they get any kind of pitching Kansas City better lookout.

Ask George Brett who made him a hitter and he will tell you Charley Lau did.

Now the practice is over and Chicago is heading for the dugout. Charley pauses, picks up 2 balls that were left in the batting cage and heads for the dugout.

As he gets there, he makes a hard left and hands the two balls to a couple of boys hanging around the dugout at the first base side. The boys grinned from ear to ear and Charley quickly ducked into the dugout.

So you see Charley is as I said before, not only a great hitting coach but also a super guy as well who still remembers that practice that sprung him on his major league career and the influence of Coach Schlaufman way back when. As the boys headed for their seats, I thought I saw a smile on Coach Schlaufman's face... right over the dugout about 2,000 feet up.

And, by the way, if you take a good look at the batting coach in "The Return of Max Dugan", he's none other than Charley Lau.

More stats on Harris

In a story that was carried in the Associated Newspapers' sports section last week, some statistics on Wayne Memorial wrestler, T.J. Harris was inadvertently omitted.

Harris, a 105-pound senior, was named to the All-Area First Team in Wrestling. The story should have read that Harris had captured the Great Lakes 8 Conference championships for the past two years and also won the district titles the last two years. He is a regional champ and finished four at the state.

Young wrestlers boast superb mat records

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second and concluding article on the Associated Newspapers' 1983 High School Wrestling Team. The initial story last week featured members of the First Team. Today, the ANP offers sketches of members picked for the Second team).

From 98-pounder Rick Vershaue, who hails from Plymouth Salem, to Romulus High's heavyweight, Tracy Cline, members of the Second Team have tested ability and wrestling acuity. They were instrumental in helping their respective teams capture league championships and played key roles throughout the 1982-83 campaign.

VERSHAUE, a junior, chalked up a 31-15 won-lost record and finished in the top three berths in five of the seven tournaments he wrestled in this season. He was runner-up at the Wayne Memorial Invitational, the Canton Invitational, the North Farmington Tournament and at Monroe. He also finished third at the Salem Invitational, and earned the right to compete in the regionals when he was a runner-up at districts. He qualified for state competition.

In those 31 victories this year, Rick had 10 wins by pins. He's definitely someone to watch when the 1983-84 season rolls along.

TOM GIBSON had an excellent season at Westland John Glenn where this three-time Northwest Suburban Conference champ compiled a 34-7-1 won-lost-record. Gibson's career mark as a Rocket grappler is 99 victories, 21 losses and one tie. A two-time state qualifier, Gibson is a versatile athlete who has won nine varsity letters at John Glenn. He was an All-State candidate in cross country and placed sixth in the state in wrestling in state competition in 1982. This 105-pound senior was definitely an important link in Coach Tom Buckelew's mat strategy.

JEFF PANGMAN, also a senior, brings to the All-Area line-up a superb 38-8 season and a 46-11 record as a 112 pounder. He placed first at the Jak Warren, Schoolcraft and North Farmington Invitationals, then went on to capture the gold at the final Great Lakes 8 Conference championships. (The league will disband after the current school year and Wayne will join the Wolverine A Conference).

Pangman also won the MHSAA District title and placed second at the Belleville, John Glenn, Bay City Western Christmas Tournament. He was a fourth place performer at the Catholic Central Invitational.

JOHN JEANNOTTE represents Plymouth Salem's best and the All-Area's finest at the 119-pound class where this 16-year-old junior carded 13 pins in a 28-13 season. Jeannotte will help form the nucleus of a near invincible Rock squad a year from now. He has gold medals from this year's performances at the Salem, John Glenn tournaments, while he was second at the Western Lakes Athletic Conference and at the Canton and Monroe Meets.

ED FOWLER is the only sophomore to crack the All-Area second team and his efforts on the mats proved that he will be a "blue chip" wrestler before he winds up his prep career. Ed amassed a 22-11 won-lost record in 1983 and surprised his coaches and rivals by winning the prestigious Schoolcraft Invitational and went on to place fourth at the North Farmington Invitational while he was fifth in both the Belleville and Bay City Western Tournaments.

BROCK NIGG, Belleville High's exceptional 132-pounder, finished sixth in the state after an outstanding season that included a second place medal at the Class A district championships and a runner-up medal in the Suburban 8 Conference. He was a regional qualifier.

JIM ERTMAN was a first year varsity competitor for Wayne who posted a 37-19 record as a 138-pounder. A junior who captured the Great Lakes 8 Conference title, Ertman went on to also win the Belleville and Bay City Western Invitational then placed second at the district tournament at qualified for state by finishing fourth at the regionals. He also boasts third place medals for his performances at North Farmington and Montrose and finished fifth at the John Glenn and Schoolcraft Invitational. He placed sixth at the Catholic Central meet.

JIM CAMPBELL ended his prep wrestling career at Belleville High by winning the Suburban 8 Conference gold medal in the 154-pound class. Campbell also had an impressive 24-13 record in the mats for the season and advanced to the regional competitions by placing third at the district meet.

MARTY HEATON also brought the curtains down to an outstanding athletic career at Plymouth Canton where he piled up a 36-13-1 won-lost record as a 155-pounder. Marty also starred on the gridiron. He was the winner of the Canton Invitational and placed second in the W.L.A.A. while qualifying for the state. He holds the record for take-downs on a season and ranks eighth on the all-time total point list. Heaton is planning to wrestling on the college level this fall.

JOE JOHNSTON had an enviable 25-7 won-lost record as a member of Belleville High's team where this 167-pound senior racked up a 40-19 career record. The reigning Suburban 8 Conference champ in his weight class, Johnston fought off injuries and his rivals to develop into one of the finest young wrestlers on the local scene.

DAVE SCOTT is Livonia Churchill's lone representative to the All-Area second team as he completed his junior year with a gold medal at the Clarenceville Invitational and placed second in both the Schoolcraft at the W.L.A.A. championships. He qualified for regional competition by placing fourth at the district meet.

TOM ALOISI was voted Westland John Glenn's Most Improved Wrestler as he won 29 of his 35 bouts this year en route to the Northwest Suburban Conference championship. A senior, Aloisi is a 198-pound athlete who has the potential of starring in just about any sport he wishes to participate or compete in.

TRACY CLINE is a multi-talented young athlete who will be a junior next year and could prove awesome as a heavyweight, barring injuries. An independent because Romulus High is not affiliated with a conference, Tracy established himself as one of the upcoming heavyweights in the area and will be a power to contend with next year. If he continues to develop as he has in the past, Tracy may become as devastating at Belleville High's former great, Keith Simmons who went on to star for Minnesota.

Local bowlers wrap up league competitions

BY JIM WRUBLEWSKI

As usual, for this time of year, the leagues are coming to the end of their seasons and the number of high scores are becoming fewer and fewer. Fortunately the unusual is still happening and the word does get around.

Super Bowl was the site of both some high scoring and an unusual situation recently, and, because of what took place, we extend our congratulations and condolences to Jim Strange.

Rolling in the Monday Night Classic Jim had a very respectable 739 series which included a 278 game on 9 strikes in a row.

Apparently, he liked throwing strikes, because on his next trip there (in an unopposed make-up match for a proprietor's travelling league), Jim rolled games of 245, 225 and that coveted first time 300 game for a 770 total.

Then, when the excitement settled down, the cold hard facts of life settled in. For although the scores rolled are valid for determining league standings, the American Bowling Congress does not recognize high scores for award purposes when they are rolled during unopposed matches.

Jim, therefore, ends up with an outstanding memory. But, unfortunately, no ring on his finger. You just might want to keep that in mind when you try to arrange make-up matches.

The youngsters are our featured shooters at Fiesta Lanes with 11 year old, Denise Woods shooting a 167 game and 13 year old Tracy Woods keeping pace with a 175 game. For the big people, Mark Evina rolled a 267 game.

At Wayne Bowl, 13 year old, Brian Avis, recorded his lifetime first 200 game to go 75 pins over his current 125 average; Jim Wayne was 148 pins over his normal average with a 628 series; Wallace Reese hit 663; Dave Conti had 643; and Jerry Fritts finished with a 637 total.

Leaders at Lodge Lanes included Bob Brown with a 245 game for a 687 series and Keith Swafford at 236 and 662.

Dan Dauer set the pace at Town "N" Country when he rolled his first 700 series, a 732. Dan's games of 257, 254, and 221 put him in first place for high series in the Friday Jr. House League surpassing the previous high of 713 by Bill Gaskins. In the Our Gang Mixed League, Butch McKina set an all time league high of 721 on games of 256-257-208; Mike McLaughlin hit 278; Al Thompson had 259 for 706; Dick Longwish had a 663 total and 262 game at two separate outings; 135 average, Berry Hall, had a 220; Barb Galbraith threw 6 in a row for 224; Barb Carter had 225 and 254 for a 625 total and a new season high for the Early Bird League; and Wally Goeckel hit 235 and 660.

Top scorer at Westland Bowl was Bob Pniewski with a 704 followed by Charlie Riffle with 693. Bill Brown hit 240 and 206 for 637; Steve Brown had 225 and 209 for 624; and 156 average, Tim Klinebriel put his first 600 total in the record books with the help of a 242 game.

The Guys and Dolls at Westland Bowl had the opportunity recently to see 139 average No-reen Plasencia have her first 500 series, a 507, with the help of a 196 game; Cookie Herriman rolled career highs two weeks in a row starting with a 230 and 571 then following that with a 232 and 587 series; Dave Walker (124 average) hit 212 and 519; and Judy Klemczak also rolled career highs of 234 and 603.

Continuing our parade of champions, we have Westland Bowls Monday Morning Mens League top finishers Eddie Raiders consisting of Gary and Ed Henricks, Dennis and Dan Jacobs, and Rich Mewton.

There is still time, but not much, for two very special events in this area that should not be missed.

First is the Wayne-Westland Men's Bowling Association annual tournament at Wayne Bowl. The tournament includes team, doubles, singles, and special events. Entry blanks are available at local bowling centers for this event, which runs week ends from the end of April through May and has a potential first prize of $1000.

Second is the association's annual awards dinner dance. This sell out event features dancing to a 16 piece band, a buffet dinner, door prizes, and an open bar all for the exceptionally low price of $25 per couple. Tickets can be purchased from any association director. Don't miss either event. I know I won't.

Their favorite Piston

Meeting their favorite Piston, Bill Lambeer, are (from right): Deanna Wolfe, 13, Rochester and Jim Neal, 12, Wayne. Each of the children had the opportunity to visit the Piston locker room and each was given an autographed basketball and four reserved seat tickets to a Detroit basketball game as winners in the McDonald's "Meet Your Favorite Piston"

Contest. They also were introduced on the public address system during the game. One winner is being selected from each participating McDonald's in the greater metropolitan area. Deanna represents the McDonald's at 7495 23 Mile Road, Utica and Jim represents the McDonald's at 5235 Merriman, Westland.

Craig Walker

Ex-Glenn standout wins Titan award

Craig Walker, a senior baseball second baseman from Westland, was presented with the Titan Club Award at the 1983 University of Detroit All-Sports Awards and Hall of Fame Induction Dinner, held last week.

The Titan Club Award is presented annually to the male and female student-athletes of any varsity sport who have attained academic and athletic excellence for the academic school year.

Titan baseball teammate Tom Miner shared the male award with Walker this year, while the female winner was Lady Titan basketball sophomore Nancy Gumbert.

One of four senior captains on the Titan baseball squad, Walker hit .335 last year, with a team-leading 51 runs. A solid second baseman and strong hitter, Craig added 61 hits last year and hit 15 doubles with 35 RBIs while playing in 56 of U-D's 58 games.

Besides lifting his batting average 55 points, he boosted his fielding percentage 71 points from .879 as a soph to .950 last season.

A transfer from Henry Ford C.C. where he earned All-Conference honors in 1980, Walker is a graduate of John Glenn High School, where he picked up All-League, All-Area, and All-Metro laurels.

Walker is a personnel administration major at U-D with a 2.94 grade point average.

Northwest will be tough league

With only four starters back from last season's Northwest Suburban League co-championship baseball team, the Rockets of Westland John Glenn seemingly have a rebuilding year ahead of them.

But veteran baseball coach Norm Hoenes, now beginning his 17th year as the Rockets' mentor, is "anxious for the season to start" and relishes the prospect of coaching this team.

"On paper, we're picked for fourth or fifth in our league. But we look for better because of the quality of athletes we have this year."

Four of those quality athletes are returnees from last year's 18-7 squad: catcher Dave Lamberti, first baseman Tim Filary, and outfielder Gordie Hassien. These four will provide the nucleus of this Rocket ballclub and provide the leadership that this team will need in a very tough league race.

"The league will be tough," said Hoenes. "Garden City, with the combination of the two high schools, will be a big threat. So will Thurston and Redford Union, both will have nearly everyone back from last year. We could be anywhere from first to fifth."

A good baseball team will usually be strong up the middle and the Rockets are no exception.

Catcher Lamberti provides experience behind the plate and brings a reputation as "the best catcher in the league" to this year's squad.

According to Hoenes, he is a "legitimate blue chipper," and could be an asset to any college baseball program. At the plate, Lamberti hit .340 last year and is a definite threat offensively, as well.

At shortstop, Cass Simpson steps into the limelight as a sophomore, one of three on the team this year. Hoenes has high hopes for his young infielder saying, "Cass is a tremendous athlete and has a great baseball sense."

Helping Simpson get accustomed to varsity baseball is senior second sacker Chris Merandi. While Merandi is not the regular second sacker, at least for now, Hoenes feels "his valuable experience can be an asset to the Rockets" and "his utility role will help this team because he is able to play several positions well."

In centerfield is junior Bruce Billings, who has a "very strong arm," and will provide Hoenes with an outfielder who can range far and wide and keep things together in the outfield.

Flanking Billings in left field is junior Glenn Belcher, who has a "very strong arm" and will be an asset when it comes to chasing fly balls hit down the left field line.

Gordie Hassien, a senior, will provide much-needed experience in right field, the "sun field" at Glenn's home ground. His good speed will aid in chasing any balls hit up the gap and Hoenes hopes his bat starts out the same way as it did last year.

At the receiving end of many of Kujawski's throws will be Tim Falery, a three-year starter, who Hoenes describes as "a power hitter and a good player." His performance, both in the field and at bat, will go a long way towards determining where the Rockets finish this season.

All teams need good pitching in order to win consistently (go ask the Tigers that one) and Hoenes feels he has four strong arms to help in that area.

Senior Steve Jaskolski, the only hurler with varsity experience, has "good control" and it is he who Hoenes will "depend on to carry the team this year. His senior leadership is the key to our season."

Three juniors — Donn Wolfe, Bill

Purdue and Jeff Nieman — will provide the Rockets with three solid starters who "have excellent control." Should they come through with good seasons, there is no telling how far Glenn could go.

Hoenes' bench will feature two sophomores — Dave Jensen and Mike Baydarian, and two seniors — Mike Lentine and Doug Brown — who will provide the Rockets with depth. Jensen played on the same Wayne-Ford team last year that traveled to Tennessee to play in the Sandy Koufax World Series.

Wherever Glenn may finish this season, Coach Hoenes has put together a nucleus of a team that should be heard from for the next few years.

Rockets manage to sweep pair from nonleague rivals, Edsel

Finally!

After many practices and two rainouts, the Rockets of Westland John Glenn got their baseball season underway last Saturday, defeating Dearborn Edsel Ford, 7-5 and 18-1.

Coach Norm Hoenes, anxious to see what his charges could do under actual game conditions, had to like what he saw. The Rockets used timely hitting and took advantage of some sloppy play by the Thunderbirds to sew up both ends of the twin bill.

In the first game, the Rockets broke on top, 3-0, as sophomore shortstop Cass Simpson singled in two runs in the second inning and Chris Merandi doubled in a tally in the third.

Meanwhile, starting pitcher Steve Jaskolski did his imitation of Milt Wilcox as he no-hit the Thunderbirds through the first three innings.

Bill Purdue came on in the fourth inning and was rudely greeted by a three-run blast over the left field fence by Edsel Ford pitcher Armstrong. Purdue got out of the inning with no further damage.

Purdue's teammates came right back with four runs of their own to put the game away. Aided by a couple errors by the Edsel Ford infield and a bases-clearing triple by left fielder Glenn Belcher, the Rockets had a 7-3 lead, and for all intents and purposes, the game.

Even though he surrendered two runs in the latter stages of the game, Purdue closed out the opener successfully.

In the nightcap, it was no contest as the Rockets turned on the hit machine in the very first inning and grabbed a 7-0 lead. Simpson and Mike Lentine led off with singles, Dennis Lamberti had a double, Chris Merandi had a two-bagger and Mike Baydarian and Dave Jensen singles as the Rockets sent 11 men to the plate in the inning that squelched the hopes of Edsel Ford for good.

Jeff Nieman started the game for Glenn and went 5 solid innings, fanning four and allowing only one run on two hits. Donn Wolfe finished up, striking out 1 and allowing only 1 hit.

Hoenes substituted freely (and probably would have played him, too, if he was on the bench) as Glenn continued to add to their lead with three more runs in the fourth, and four each in the fifth and sixth innings. Lamberti drove in 2 runs and Jensen contributed 3 hits to the cause.

All together, a good start for the Rockets who hope to keep it going this week with a full slate of games with Dearborn, Franklin, and league title favorite, Redford Union.

That is, of course, barring any rainouts, er, snowouts.

County offers residents 'emergency services'

Wayne-Metropolitan Community Services Agency is offering another Emergency Services Program to needy persons living in Wayne County outside of Detroit. Beginning immediately, the new program will bring three types of aid projects designed to help low-income, elderly and handicapped persons and also those persons and families who are faced with an urgent emergency.

Luther J. Flanagan, Executive Director Wayne-Metro CSA, said that the program was designed to meet the needs of people caught in an immediate and urgent crisis situation, and $52,000, received from the State Department of Social Services will purchase foods, pay for prepared meals and pay the cost for temporary shelter.

The program has the flexibility to assist most families faced with an emergency situation requiring food or shelter, but Flanagan said emphasis is to be put on the "urgent" emergencies such as fire, night-time and week-end crisis and other incidents that bring about unexpected emergencies. He added that his agency is already distributing such foods as the USDA surplus cheese, butter and dry milk, the General Motors and UAW "Care and Share" food program, the Automobile Club's "Operation Foodbasket", the State-coordinated AIM project and other privately donated foods.

Cooperating with Wayne-Metro in this Emergency Services Program are several private sector agencies and businesses. Hotels, motels and rooming houses will be providing temporary shelter to families up to 30 days. Soup kitchens, churches and local restaurants will provide prepared meals and grocery markets will provide food items. At the start-up of this program 25 Farmer Jack Supermarkets and 12 Great Scott Supermarkets located throughout the Out-Wayne County communities will honor Wayne-Metro food vouchers for specified items.

Other commercial businesses providing shelter or prepared meals will be reimbursed through the voucher system also. No cash will be given directly to individuals receiving assistance under this project and benefits are limited to a 30-day period.

After normal work hours and on week-ends a 24-hour answering service has been established to respond to emergencies. This phone number will be available to local police and fire departments and other agencies and private groups that are involved in emergency services. Due to time limitations placed by DSS, the Emergency Services Program will end June 30, 1983.

Make it a 'Big Mac'

Michigan Farm Bureau Auxiliary representatives visited Quirk School recently and showed movies "that tell about what goes into and on a "Big Mac". They also said that modern farmers have changed since grandparents were young and most farm equipment is modernized. Pictured with the three Quirk students — Crystal Mott (front row, from left), Andrea Malony and Danielle Briseno — all fourth graders — are Wayne County Farm Bureau Auxiliary's Elsie Fulford and Joan Sayre.

Alignment machine

Van Buren schools receives a gift from Nebraska

The Van Buren Public Schools' Vocational Center has received a universal body alignment machine for use in the auto body class.

The vocational center will use the alignment machine for a two year period free of charge with an optional two years without any charge to the district. The machine is from Chief Industries of Grand Island, Nebraska.

The E-Z Liner II is designed primarily to repair unitized body and light duty trucks for any type of straightening body work.

Bill Nagy, Supervisor of Vocational Education at Van Buren Schools, said: "We are very fortunate to have received one of these frame machines to use free of charge."

"Schools are the real hope for the future of collision repair and with equipment like the Chief E-Z Liner we can attract new craftsmen to the auto body industry," Nagy added.

Kindle Liberty was designed to evaluate the deployment of U.S. Southern Command forces to Panama.

The exercise is consistent with the provisions of the 1977 Panama Canal treaties which provide for the combined defense of the canal by U.S. and Panamanian forces, according to U.S. Military spokesmen.

Fields is an infantryman with the 101st Airborne Division, Fort Campbell, Ky.

He is a 1981 graduate of Lincoln Park High School.

Pvt. Michael J. Beekman, son of Carol A. Roussey of 24187 Merri-man Road, New Boston, has graduated as an armor crewman at the U.S. Army Armor School, Fort Knox, Ky.

The training was conducted under the one station unit training (OSUT) program, which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training into one 13-week period.

During the course, students received training in the duties of a tank crewman, including firing the tank's armament and small weapons. Instruction was also given in field radio operations, map reading, and tank maintenance and repair.

He is a 1982 graduate of Huron High School, New Boston.

Kenneth W. Richardson, 18, son of Billy and Fay Richardson, 41757 Arthur, Belleville, enlisted in the U.S. Air Force today, departing here for six weeks basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

Following completion of basic, says his recruiter, Technical Sergeant Ed Lehmann, 3645 Metro Place Mall, Wayne, Richardson has been guaranteed training as an Aircraft Armament Systems Specialist. Lehmann added that the 1982 graduate of Belleville High School will receive college credit for his Air Force training through the Community College of the Air Force.

Upon graduation from technical training school, Richardson will be assigned to an Air Force duty station.

Staff Nurses Emergency Services

Nursing at the University of Michigan Hospitals is a unique experience. The climate is one of enthusiasm and support as nurses share in the pursuit of professional excellence. We are now seeking registered nurses to be a part of our Emergency Services Department. Currently there are full- and part-time positions open for all shift rotations.

Nurses play a vital role on the dynamic Emergency Services team. They serve as Team Leader, Advanced Triage Nurse and Poison Information resource person as well as provide expert nursing care to patients.

Preferred candidates will have a current Michigan nursing license; current ACLS certification and a minimum of 1 year emergency nursing or ICU experience. For a closer look at these opportunities, please call collect or write to: Nurse Employment Office, University of Michigan Hospitals, 300 N. Ingalls, Box 50, Ann Arbor, MI 48109, (313) 763-4600.

Style... a very personal matter

"The best of both worlds" can be yours, for this is an era where bygone elegance and modern conveniences merge gracefully. For those who choose, the traditional beauty of an older home need not present the annoyance of faltering older fixtures.

"Recycling" of a spacious older home can go far to incorporate modern appliances and energy-saving features with potentially more living space for less money. Thus, a bit of the past's gracious lifestyle can be enjoyed even in these inflationary times.

But, the choice is yours. If glistening chrome and track lighting are your style, then you too can have that, instead. High-tech decor naturally blends with the dawn of computerized appliances.

A computerized dishwasher and a television that also accommodates telephone calls through its remote control device, while not in every home, are only two of many innovations to succeed the microwave.

Thanks to the ever-quicken pace of technology, most any home convenience that today's imagination fancies will soon be tomorrow's reality.

And, whatever advancements are made, they will be sure to enhance every house, from the historic restoration to the energy efficient solar home.

But again, choice is foremost in the home designing trends of our times. And, perhaps the most important thing to remember when designing or decorating your home or apartment is that rules were made to be broken.

Past generations wouldn't think of mixing periods or styles. Yet, today, some of the loveliest home environments are created by juxtaposing the antique and the modern.

Why not place a Louis XVI desk in a contemporary room, or cover a Victorian loveseat with a 20th century fabric? In the '80s anything that you find pleasing is appropriate.

Home is where the heart is...and home is a unique expression of individual style and taste. Rules no longer apply to the "period" of matching furniture—now is the time to mix furnishings for a distinctive home that speaks solely of the taste and style of the owner.

Another hard and fast rule has always been to paint walls and ceilings a uniform color. But, painting the ceiling atop bright shopping solely in furnishing and department stores, try innovative sources such as the garden shop, hardware stores, or even the electrical store.

Or, you may discover an alternative function for an everyday object that creates a new, un-ly carved antique sofa floats beautifully on one side of the table like a banquette.

To-the-floor spreads are no longer a must for the well-dressed bed. The prettiest of linens may be shown off with an unmade bed, as well as coordinated with curtains white walls a summery blue adds a touch of sky and an airy lightness to even the smallest of widowless rooms.

Another deviation from the usual pattern presents many unique decorating options. Instead of usual effect. A huge flowerpot, for example, makes a wonderful holder for newspapers, and why not use a tree trunk section as a coffee or end table? Possibilities are as endless as the imagination.

Create an air of eclecticism by mixing dining room chairs rather than using a uniform set. Chairs that are painted blend interestingly with bare wood, as do upholstered armchairs with hardback seats.

Elegantly evocative, a delicate-

Whether your aesthetic sense favors the tasteful richness of irreplaceable moldings and high ceilings, or the sleek lines and polish of high-tech design, your options are as varied as your desires.

With a bit of imagination, a vast array of environments are possible for your home or apartment.

With a lot of ingenuity, you can create almost any mood, because in this era, you can have it all!

Beauty and the bed

What do Cyrus Vance, Arthur Ashe, President and Mrs. Ronald Reagan, and the rock group Kiss have in common? A Continental Quilt, the traditional bedcovering of Europe.

Imagine a total bedcovering that replaces top sheet, blanket, bedspread and bedmaking all in one! These and hundreds of other celebrities, leaders, trendsetters and lovers of the good life agree that, after one night with the sumptuous look, sensuous feel and sensible economics of a Continental Quilt, all other ways to cover a bed become obsolete.

It all started with the feather, enabling birds to soar while remaining light, insulating their delicate frames against changes in temperature. Then came the feather bed, probably a farmer's first mattress and bedcovering from his own ducks and geese.

If feathers could produce such comfort underneath, what about on top? Farmers of yore filled cotton sacks with feathers and down, producing the first primitive Continental Quilt. This simple bag of feathers became the traditional bedcovering of Europe in the last century, in the 1970s evolving into the Continental Quilt with the refinements of today.

Made in Europe, the Continental Quilt maintains the European standards of quality and high-fashion while bearing substantial improvements tailored to the American market.

Sized for American beds which are larger than their European counterparts, and filled with the highest-quality goose down, the Continental Quilt is designed as an all-in-one replacement for top sheet, blanket, bedspread, and all other bedcovering paraphernalia found on the North American bed — making it the total bedcovering for all seasons.

The 100 percent Cambric cotton shell is a feature setting the Continental Quilt apart from ordinary comforters. Incredibly soft to the touch and impervious to down and feather leakage, it comes in a variety of colors: bone, white, camel, light blue, navy, dark brown and yellow.

To protect the CQ shell, custom fitted covers are also available in striking variety of designs. These covers offer consummate decorative flexibility, providing at once a design focus for the bed and the bedroom itself. In addition, the covers protect the CQ which, although constructed to last a lifetime, shouldn't be washed on a routine basis.

In short, a Continental Quilt with designer cover does away with bedmak-

While working magic in the bedrooms of rambling country estates, Continental Quilts with or without designer covers also bring joy to urban dwellers who must frequently make every room count as a statement in design and lifestyle.

There are three ways to use a Continental Quilt: 1) au naturel (the quilted look) is the Continental Quilt by itself plus top sheet; 2) (and probably the best) covered with a designer CQ cover, the ultimate Continental Quilt experience; or, 3) covered with a high-fashion designer cover again, but using a top sheet as well.

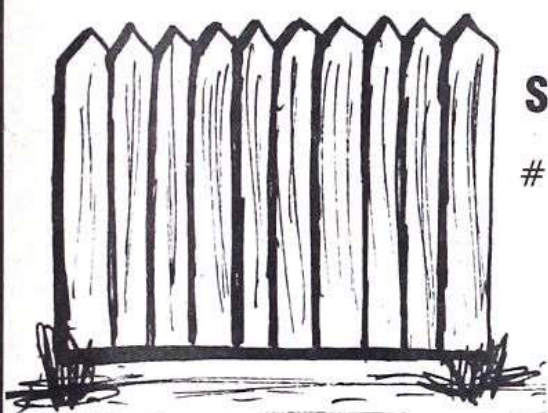

These three alternatives uses of the Continental Quilt system give three distinct looks to the bed and are replacing all current bedding, including bedspreads, with a whole new look and a whole new feeling.

Table manners...

Fashion designer Gloria Sachs created a romantic "Woodland Tryst" tablesetting to complement the Parasol china pattern from the Lantana Collection introduced by Lenox. Ms. Sachs, along with four other top-name designers, demonstrated how to add creative touches to the table for your next celebration.

Top designers tell tabletop secrets

How do top-name fashion designers like Geoffrey Beene, Kasper, Adri, Gloria Sachs and Betsey Johnson "dress up" their tables when entertaining at home? Recently, these five designers translated their creativity in ready-to-wear to original tablesettings for the premiere of Lantana, a new collection of fine dinnerware by Lenox China, which can be used for both casual and formal entertaining.

Each designer selected a different pattern — with its country, oriental and primitive design themes — and went to work mixing and matching fabrics, patterns and accessories to create settings that best suited their styles of entertaining.

Here are tips from the designers on "dressing up" tables, which you can adapt to suit your entertaining style — whether casual, formal, or a mixture of moods.

- Use bold, colorful prints with patterned china: Geoffrey Beene, winner of many Coty awards, the fashion industry's most coveted prize, used a strikingly bold floral cloth to reflect the bright colors and lively floral design of the Wind Chimes china pattern.

Long tapers placed in crystal candlesticks surrounding a spring bouquet, set the appropriate mood for "A Celebration of Success."

- Combine pattern on pattern: Kasper, a three-time Coty award winner, chose Lantana's dramatic clack and white Ebony Rose and complemented it with a mixture of black and white prints and checks creating a strikingly sophisticated feeling for his formal tablesetting, "Dinner at a Country Estate." He chose a deep red floral centerpiece, which added a dramatic and colorful touch.

- Mix stripes and flowers: The current Coty Award winner Adri used a boldly striped cloth to highlight and enhance the prominent floral pattern in Lantana's Mealne.

The buffet service, themed "A Summer's Evening Supper," demonstrated how stripes and flowers can be combined to create a striking yet elegant table setting.

- Make a statement with flowers: For her tablesetting "Woodland Tryst," award-winning designer Gloria Sachs selected the naturalistic floral Parasol pattern and created a richly-romantic country tablesetting with soft hues of lavender, pink and white.

The centerpiece arrangement combined pink tulips, white roses, and assorted woodland flowers and vines along with long white tapers in crystal candlesticks placed next to both settings.

- Celebrate every occasion with style: Another Coty Award winner, Betsey Johnson, demonstrated how a simple occasion like a birthday party can be transformed into an elegant and chic celebration. She used a lavender lace cloth to highlight the soft pastel hues in the Garden Gate pattern with its country design.

Her "Birthday Celebration" tablesetting also featured champagne glasses lined with gold metallic doilies into which she placed iced cupcakes fitted with tall slim candles and single flowers.

Color it elegant

Blue wood? It doesn't grow on trees, but you can create this and other colored wood finishes for your home with paint!

Economical and pretty, furniture painting is a unique way to disguise in-

Changing the color of wooden furniture is accomplished by using either furniture stains or paint. Ready-mixed stains are available in a variety of wood grain finishes.

Colored stain finishes, such as the light blue on the furniture pictured, can be mixed to suit your particular color scheme.

Of the many and varied furniture painting techniques, stippling is among the most popular with do-it-yourselfers. Stippling requires a base coat of paint over which a subtle design is applied. Even the unaccomplished painter will, with a little practice, achieve attractive results.

Elegant and expensive looking stippling is in fact deceptively simple to do. The most important step in this painting process is to choose two complementary colors — one base coat and one top coat. Good base coat colors are typically dark shades of red, green and blue.

Black is perhaps the most versatile top coat as it blends well with almost any type of decor, but light or darker shades of the base coat also work well.

First, apply your base coat and allow it to dry thoroughly. The top coat of paint is applied with a crumpled-up piece of newspaper. After dipping the newspaper into the paint, blot it on a spare piece of paper.

Then, gently dab the entire piece of furniture once over with the newspaper, replenishing it with paint when necessary. Try not to overlap your press marks as this will tend to hide the base coat.

After the piece has dried completely, apply a coat of protective varnish to the surface.

Papers provide personal touch

Yes, you can redecorate a room without going broke. The trick is to spend your money where it counts, and according to Jerry Pappia that place is the walls.

"The walls represent the largest surface of most any room," explains Pappia, who designs wall and fabric fashions for the Thomas Strahan Company. "So it's hardly surprising that wallcoverings can work decorating miracles. Expanding space in small rooms, refreshing tired ones, and adding interest where needed are just a few of their talents.

Dramatic companion wallcoverings from Strahan's Brownstone collection add chic to inexpensive furnishings from bargain basements and garage sales.

"As a matter of fact, it's enough to just put a new wallcovering if your budget is really strained. Even if you leave everything else the way it was, the room will have an entirely new look."

But choosing among the thousands of designs and colors may confuse first-time wallcovering shoppers, so Pappia offers some hints to narrow the choices:

- To get started, you might look at patterns in the same style as your room. That is an almost foolproof method, if not terribly exciting. For more chic, try a design in the same period as your furniture, but in an unexpected color. Today's popular grid designs are decidedly contemporary, for example, but in a soft color they will suit more traditional and country rooms as well.

- If you don't have much furniture, go with a really dramatic wallcovering. It will help the room look furnished.

- Coordinated wallcoverings are a boon to insecure do-it-yourself decorators. Lots of collections today offer a variety of patterns and colors, all planned to go together, for use in the same or adjoining rooms. These groups often include fabrics, for draperies, pillows and such, automatically giving you a professionally designed scheme. "Chelsea House" by Strahan and "Good Neighbors" by Style-Text are good examples of collections featuring groups of go-together designs.

- Got a tiny room you would like to save from its feeling of claustrophobia? Try a small-scaled pattern in light colors, a metallic wallcovering that will act almost as a mirror, or certain large-scaled designs that will lead the eye beyond the walls, thus creating an illusion of space. Trellis-type patterns are among the designs that open up a room.

- A too large room will look "cozier" if treated to a wallcovering with dominant colors and design. A rousing plaid in the warmest of colors, and a floral motif on a dark blue, green or burgundy background are good examples of designs that would minimize rooms of ball park proportions.

- Choose a pattern that leads the eye upward, if your problem is low ceilings. A verticle stripe would be perfect.

- To "lower the ceiling" of a too lofty room, break the height with a dado about halfway up the wall, or find a wallcovering with horizontal stripes.

Add architectural interest in a long hallway with "Sussex Stripe" from MayFair's "Kitchen, Bath & Beyond"

- Any over-all design, from checks to florals, will do a lot to cover up the "broken-up" appearance of rooms with too many windows, doors and other irregularities. Also, use valances and draperies to match the walls to disguise an over-abundance of windows, and paper the doors to match the walls.

- Old houses and apartments may have exposed pipes. Cover them to match the rest of the room, and they will disappear right into the walls.

- It helps to check out designs right in the room to be decorated. For the light at home is often different than that of the store, and even experienced shoppers tend to suffer from amnesia when it's time to match new patterns
